ALLIES DEMAND THAT GREECE JOIN THEM OR DEMOBILIZE HER ARMY

Emphasize Action by Declaring Commercial Blockade of Hellenic Empire.

NOT TO PERMIT DELAY

Germans Capture Novipazar, and Are on Direct Road to New Serbian Capital.

Other Armies Pressing Inward from Three Directions.

London, Nov. 21. — The Entente Allies have demanded that Greece either join with them and fulfill her treaty obligations to Serbia or demobilize, and, to impress King Constantine that they mean what they say, the Allies have declared a commercial blockade of the Hellenic Empire, according to dispatches from Athens. There is no confirmation of these statements available here, but it is very certain that Lord Kitchener, the British war secretary, who had an hour's audience with the King of Greece yesterday, and afterward saw Premier Skouloudis, took a firm stand, and told them what the Allies could and would do, unless the demands were conceded.

Greek Cabinet Meets

The Greek cabinet met to consider the situation and a few hours should show what Greece's future attitude will be. The Greek government has again affirmed its friendliness to the Allies but has not yet taken the steps required to prevent Greece from being counted among the friends of the Central Powers.

The Entente Allies will not permit any delay; the position of the Serbian armies makes any prolongation of the present uncertainty impossible. Already the Serbians are making what may be their last stand before Monastir and also on the plains of Kossovo.

The Bulgarians, it is true, are being held by unfavorable weather conditions, but they must be almost at the gates of the Macedonian capital by this time; while the Austro Germans and Bulgarians are slowly but surely pressing back the northern army.

Germans Capture Novipazar

The Germans announce today the capture of Novipazar, and are therefore on the direct road to Mitrovitza, which has been the Serbian capital since Nish fell into the hands of the Bulgarians.

Other armies are pressing in from the north, the northwest, the northeast and the east, and even the Montenegrins, who held their positions for so long, are being forced back.

Of the French and British troops in the south, no news has been received. Apparently they are only holding their positions and can no longer hope to be of assistance to the Serbians except by keeping a large number of Bulgarians engaged. According to German reports an effort will be made by the French and British to save the Serbians by sending troops through Montenegro and Albania, but, with poor roads, it will take a long time for them to reach the battlefield.

Other Fronts Unchanged.

There is no change on the other battlefronts. The Italians are still fighting for Goriza and the Russians are regaining ground which they lost along the Styr river last week. Czartorisk, a little village unknown before the war, and which became famous for the bitter fighting that hos occurred around it is again in the possession of the Russian, who evidently let the Germans enter to simply shell them out the next day. The German attack, which met with initial success, was doomed to final failure, as the country around is a great marsh, and in the opinion of Petrograd, the offensive was taken for political, not military, purposes with the object of impressing the Rumanians. In Courland the weather has enforced idleness among both armies.

NO HOSTILE MEASURES

Entente-Greek Situation Now Said to Be Less Acute.

Paris, Nov. 21.—An Athens dispatch to the Havas agency says:

"After Premier Skouloudis called on Lord Kitchener the British secretary for war, at the British legation yesterday, the field marshal had a two hours' conference with General Dousmanis, chief of the Greek geenral staff, and Colonel Metaxas, chief assistant on the general staff, at which the officers accompanying Lord Kitchener were present.

"Great importance is attached to this conference in political circles, the government organ "Embros" affirms, that the kind and the Greek government yesterday gave Lord Kitchener formal assurances that Greece in no case would take measures hostile to the Quadruple Entente and that a conciliatory solution of the present differences would be reached.

"The Embros adds that those who had the opportunity of seeing Earl Kitchener after his visit to the king

STATE OFFICIALS ARE ASKED TO AID

Government Intends to Put End to Bomb Plots.

AND OTHER ACTIVITIES

All Resources of Federal Government Will Be Used in Running Down and Prosecuting Those Responsible—Statement.

Washington, Nov. 21.—Official notice of the Federal government's intention to employ all its resources in running down those responsible for factory explosions, intimidation of labor and other acts of violence against American industries, is coupled in a statement issued tonight by Attorney General Gregory, with an appeal to state authorities to be equally vigorous in dealing with lawlessness beyond the reach of Federal statutes.

"Information indicating attacks upon lawful American industries and commerce through incendiary fires and explosions in factories, threats to intimidate employes and other acts of violence," says the statement, "has so often developed during the past few months as to demand searching investigation and prosecutions. The Department of Justice will continue unremittingly to investigate all such acts and prosecute all developed violations of Federal statutes, seeking indictments under the Federal law prohibiting the inter-state transportation of explosives, the Sherman law, the law relating to conspiracy to commit an offense against or to defraud the United States and the laws relating to crimes on ships and on the high seas.

"Because, however, of our dual form of government, the Federal criminal laws are extremely limited in their scope. Many crimes of violence such as arson, malicious destruction of property, etc., can in general be punished in the Federal courts only when committed where the United States has special jurisdiction.

"It follows, therefore, that such attempts to injure and destroy American industries must usually be prosecuted by state authorities.

"These conditions, so destructive to the commerce and labor of the United States, require vigorous action on the part of all agencies of the state and Federal governments. It is therefore, to be earnestly hoped that state officials will be equally active.

"I have instructed the agents of the Department of Justice, wherever they discover evidence of violation of state criminal laws to place the evidence at the disposal of the local state officials; and I assume that such officials will co-operate in acquainting the Federal officers with all information tending to show the commission of Federal crimes."

There have been various official intimations during the past few days of the government's purpose to be more than ever active in seeking out offenses against the neutrality and criminal laws of the United States, by agents or sympathizers of European belligerents a recent Department of Justice statement told fo plans for further investigation of activities of Austrian Consul General VanNuber, at New York, and his associates, and said that information had been obtained which probably would lead to additional indictments for passport frauds.

POSSES JOIN OFFICERS

Search for Man Who Assaulted Sam Frant in Automobile.

Greenville, Ala., Nov. 21.—Citizens posses and county officers were searching tonight for a man who assaulted Sam Frant, employe of a local automobile agency, Saturday, while riding in Frant's car, which he had rented Grant has not recovered.

The officers are working on the theory that the assault was made with the intent of killing Grant, who is said to have information concerning the identity of three men who held up and robbed the New York-New Orleans limited passenger train near here on July 15. At the time of the hold-up Conductor McRae died of heart failure and the robbers are said to have gotten $100,000 consigned to Texas banks although this has not been confirmed.

NEW GERMAN DEPARTMENT

Created to Deal With Economic Conditions During the War

Berlin, Nov. 21.—(Via Wireless to Sayville).—The German government has instituted a department to deal with questions pertaining to economic conditions during the war. An assistant secretaryship of state has been created to take charge of this work. Baron von Stein, former assistance secretary of state for Alsace and Lorraine, has been appointed to this position.

HEAVY SEAS SWEEP TOWN.

Efforts to Communicate with Hammond, Ore., Futile.

Astoria, Ore., November 21. — All efforts to communicate with the town of Hammond, where heavy seas were reported last night sweeping up the main street, through a break in bulkheads protecting the town, failed today. A gale did considerable damage here today. A portion of the municipal wharf roof was torn off.

CARRANZA MAKES APPEAL TO PEOPLE

Reconstruction Period Will be Long and Difficult.

MUST HAVE PATIENCE

Says Foreigners in West Mexico are in No Danger at Present—Refugees Must Be Tried Before Property is Returned.

Neuvo Laredo, Mex., Nov. 21.—In a direct appeal to the people of Mexico for co-operation in re-constructing Mexico, General Venustino Carranza urged them in an address today to have patience as the period of re-construction would be long and difficult. "You must all have patience and faith," he said, "and work with the Carranza party in its arduous task of re-construction and of overcoming the mistakes of former regimes."

Asked about conditions on the west coast of Mexico, General Carranza said foreigners now were in no danger but that should danger threaten them, prompt action would be taken to afford relief. In regard to property in Mexico which had been seized by the forces of the de facto government, General Carranza indicated that property taken from those guilty of offenses against the government might be confiscated, but that property belonging to those who had not participated in political affairs would be returned to them.

Must Return For Trial

It was made plain that to settle the question of confiscation or return of their property refugees who fled across the border, including in their number many former supporters of General Hureta, must present themselves to the Mexican authorities for trial in order to establish whether or not they have been guilty of offenses against the de facto government. The innocent need have no fear, General Carranza said, but the guilty would be punished according to the extent of their transgressions.

The Carranza headquarters today reported that conditions in Sonora and on the west were satisfactory and that the territory controlled by Villa between Nogales, aCnanea and Hermosillo, was rapidly being narrowed. General Carranza expressed confidence in the ability of General Obregon to cope with the situation there.

ORDER TO PROTECT PUBLIC.

Oil Development Companies Must File Details of Organizations.

Washington, Nov. 21. — Issuance of an order by the defacto government of Mexico requiring all oil development companies to file complete details of their organizations and operations was announced tonight by the Mexican agency here. It was explained that the object was to protect the public from unscrupulous promoters.

The agency statement also told of a steady revival of business throughout the republic and of the promulgation of a new and stringent excise decree in Mexico City.

"The decree," it said, "places in the hands of the municipal government complete control of the retail liquor

MAY ASK C. C. DANIELS TO RESIGN POSITION

Services in Justice Department Not Satisfactory.

"Political Pull" Through His Brother, Secretary Daniels, Possibly is the Only Source for his Retention.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—The services of C. C. Daniels, of Wilson, as special assistant to the Attorney General have not proven satisfactory and unless Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels, his brother, is able to bring enough influence to bear to retain his brother in office, he will be asked to resign.

Mr. Daniels was named to this position soon after the Democratic administration took charge of National affairs in Washington three years ago. He was assigned to duty as special assistant to the Attorney General to investigate the conditions of the White Eearth Indians in Minnesota. Although Mr. Daniels has been given every opportunity to "make good" and the department has gone so far as to assign Attorney Garnett, of Richmond, Va., to assist him, his services have proven unsatisfactory.

A high official of the Department of Justice said tonight that although the Department was kindly disposed to Attorney Daniels they would be forced to let him go unless they were forced to retain him on account of "political pull" from other sources.

The position pays $5,000 a year, and a liberal expense account. The job is similar to the one now held by E. J. Justice, of Greensboro, except that Justice draws a larger salary, and has made good beyond expectations.

"E. J. Justice is one of the most efficient attorneys in the service of the Department of Justice," said this same official tonight. "His handling of the oil cases on the Pacific coast have been more than pleasing to the Department and we have every reason to believe because of his good work the government will win these suits which involve hundreds of millions or dollars."

BURN BRIDGES TO CHECK VILLA ARMY

Believed His Forces Are Retreating to Nogales

OBREGON MEN CHECKED

Have Skirmish With Villa Forces at Labota, Which Later Withdrew —Carranza Garrison Stationed at Cananea.

Douglas, Ariz., Nov. 22.—To prevent the main Villa army, reported retreating from Hermosillo, from reaching Nogales General Alvaro Obregon, Carranza commander, has bridge-burning squads operating along the Hermosillo-Nogales railway lines. A skirmish today at Labota, eight miles east of Santa Cruz, is reported to have checked Obregon's westward movement. There are indications, however, that the Villa forces withdrew after an hour's fighting.

General Obregon reported to General Carranza today that Cananea had been garrisoned following the flight yesterday of the Villa forces under General Jose Rodriguez. Rodriguez left several pieces of artillery and his wounded, it was said. General Carranza telegraphed today that reinforcements will leave Piedras Negras tomorrow, bound for Naco, traveling through United States territory. Advices to Mexican Consul Lelevier stated that 1,800 men and 400 cavalry horses will constitute the first detachment.

The railroad between Naco and Cananea was opened tonight for traffic, according to Lelevier. The Cananea Consolidated Copper Company today purchased all food supplies available at Naco for shipment south to relieve those left destitute by Rodrigues.

ADVOCATES ADOPTION OF AMERICAN SCHOOL SYSTEM

German Mechanical Engineers Meet in Anaual Session.

Berlin, November 21. — (By wireless to Sayville)—The Association of German Mechanical Engineers held its annual meeting yesterday in Berlin.

President Von Rieppel discussed the effect of the war on industrial conditions. He advocated betterment of the position of working men by giving them greater chances for advancement and recommended adoption of the American school system, which gives equal privileges to all in elementary education.

The association awarded the Gashoef medal, the highest honor which it confers, to Privy Councillor Voit.

FRUSTRATE A PLOT TO KILL ARCHBOLD

Opinion Advanced by Chief of Police at Tarrytown, N. Y.

BOMB IN RUT OF ROAD

Believed Plan of the Perpetrator Was to Blow Up the Oil President in His Automobile While Driving From Home.

Tarrytown, N. Y., Nov. 21.—A plot to kill John D. Archbold, president of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, was frustrated by the finding of a dynamite bomb in the wheel rut of a roadway on his estate here leading from the financier's home, in the opinion of Chief of Police William J. Bowles. The bomb was of four sticks of dynamite with wires and percussion caps, and Chief Bowles said tonight he believed the plan to blow up Mr. Archbold in his automobile as he was driving from his home.

This became known today when John Wahlquist, superintendent for Mr. Archbold, notified Chief Bowles of a bundle which he said he had found in the roadway of the estate. The dynamite was wrapped in dark yellow paper. Chief Bowles said it was arranged that the slightest impact would explode the dynamite.

Chief Bowles declared the person placed the explosive was familiar with the route taken by Mr. Archbold when driving from his home to the dock on the Hudson river where he boarded his yacht for the trip to New York.

The bomb was found Saturday but the fact did not become known until today when Mr. Archbold issued instructions to increase the number of guards about the estate. Chief Bowles was confident tonight that the bomb had been placed last Friday and that it was planned to kill Mr. Archbold Saturday morning but the financier did not leave the estate until after the explosives were found. The police are looking for a man seen near the place Friday.

The Archbold estate is three miles from Pocantico Hills where John D. Rockefeller's country home is located.

EXAMINE GREEK RESERVES

Dr. J. Constas Ordered to Hopewell, Va., by Greek Legation.

Hopewell, Va., Nov. 21.—Dr. J. Constas has been ordered to Hopewell by the Greek reservists now residing here. A telegram to George Flakas, one of the leading Greeks here, was received today from the legation instructing him to have all reservists report for examination on Tuesday. The examination will be held both in Hopewell and Petersburg. The official list shows there are 2,500 Greeks here who are liable for army service. Most of them are employed in the new Dupont powder plant.

London, Nov. 21.—The admiralty states that the crews of the British boarding steamer Tara, sunk recently in the eastern Mediterranean by a German submarine, has been landed on the African coast beyond the Egyptian frontier. The British authorities in Egypt are endeavoring to ascertain their whereabouts.

ALLIED BLOCKADE OF GREECE IS DECLARED

But Not to Force Abandonment of Her Neutrality.

Announcement Says Action is Taken Because of Questions Touching Liberty of Entente Troops Landed in Greece.

Paris, Nov. 21.—Havas' Athens correspondent, in a dispatch filed yesterday, confirms the report that the Entente Powers have declared a commercial blockade of Greece. The announcement in the form of a note issued by the British legation at Athens is given as follows:

"Because of the attitude taken by the Hellenic government in regard to certain questions touching closely the security and liberty of action to which the allied troops have the right under the conditions of their disembarkment on Greek territory, the allied powers have deemed it necessary to take certain measures which will have the effect of suspending the economic and commercial facilities which Greece has received from them heretofore.

"It is not the intention of the allied powers to constrain Greece to abandon her neutrality, to maintain which, in their eyes, is the best guaranty of her interests. The allied governments have been somewhat disturbed by certain allusions to eventual measures which, if taken by the Hellenic government, would appear to them to be contradictory to assurances they have received.

"As soon as their doubts on that subject—due not doubt to a misunderstanding—have been dispelled, the powers will be happy to remove the obstacles now opposed to the arrival of merchandise in Greece, and to accord any facilities which result from normal relations."

KITCHENER LEAVES FOR OTHER FIELDS

Reported Greece Promised to Take No Hostile Measures

AGAINST THE ENTENTE

However, Policy is Still Undefined Officially—Venizelos and Followers Still Lean to Serbs and Allied Powers.

Field Marshal Lord Kitchener has left Athens for other fields of diplomatic or military action in the Near East. The future policy of Greece is still undefined officially but dispatches from the Greek capital quote the government organ Embros as affirming that Lord Kitchener received formal assurances from King Constantine and his ministers that Greece in no case would take measures hostile to the Entente Powers and that a solution of the differences would be found.

A commercial blockade of Greece has been declared by the Entente Powers according to a news agency dispatch which quotes a note issued by the British legation in Athens saying that the step was taken because of the attitude of the Hellenic government "in regard to certain questions touching closely the security and liberty of action to which the allied troops have the right under the conditions of their disembarkment on Greek territory."

No Constraint Intended

It is added that while it is not the intention of the allied powers to constrain Greece to abandon her neutrality the allied governments have been some what disturbed by certain allusions to eventful measures which, if taken by the Hellenic government, would appear to them to be contradictory to assurances they have received."

When doubts on the subject are dispelled, the note says, the allied powers will remove the obstacles.

Whatever may be the intentions of the Greek government there seemingly has been no abatement in the feeling of formr premier Venizelos and his followers that the duty of Greece lies with the Serbs and the Entente Allies. At a meeting in Athens they decided to urge non-participation by their party in the coming general election on the ground that in the event of another victory at the polls they would not be able to put the policy of Venizelos into effect.

Serb Victory at Leskovats

Meanwhile the Teutonic allies continue their absorption of Serbian territory. The only deviation from the customary daily report of Austro-German and Bulgarian successes is contained in a report issued by the Serbian legation at Rome which announces an important Serbian victory at Leskovats in the Nish distrist after a battle lasting several days. According to the legation, the Bulgarian losses were enormous.

The operations in southern Serbia are still somewhat beclouded. On the French front in the extreme southeast quiet prevails. Of the situation around Monastir, however, nothing official has come through but unofficial advices say that the British have arrived there and are being reinforced.

A Bucharest dispatch is authority for the statement that the first contingent of German troops has arrived at Constantinople.

Italians Claim Successes.

Goriza, the key to Triest, is still under heavy bombardment by the Italian guns and Rome claims further successes here and also on the plateau and in the Zagria sector. Vienna admits that at Oslavia the Italians succeeded in penetrating the Austrian lines but declares that most of the position was re-captured and that extremely violent attacks against Podgora also were repulsed.

Along the western front in France and Belgium and on the eastern line in Russia there have been mining and artillery operations which have resulted in no important changes of positions.

FEDERATION OF LABOR TO HOLD ANOTHER MEETING TODAY

Dispute Between Carpenters and Metal Trades Delays Adjournment.

San Francisco, Nov. 21.—A jurisdictional dispute between the carpenters and the sheet metal workers that caused a deadlock not broken until 12:30 a. m., today, and which made it apparent that the business of the convention could not be concluded before 8 o'clock this morning caused an adjournment of the thirty-fifth annual convention of the American Federation of Labor until tomorrow morning. It had been the expectation that the convention would come to an end last night.

The sheet metal workers appealed to the convention from the ruling of the building trades committee, which had held that carpenters were privileged to do metal trim work in construction. The metal men stated they had spent $500,000 in the last seven years fighting the carpenters on this question. When the matter finally was put before the convention, it voted 84 to 81 to let the metal trades continue their jurisdiction. It is thought that the federation will conclude its business tomorrow.

GEORGE P. CRONK DEAD

Was Formerly Grand Exalted Ruler of Order of Elks.

Franklin, Va., Nov. 21.—George P. Crank, age 53, former grand exalted ruler of the Benovelent and Protective Order of Elks, died here today after an illness of two months. He was elected grand exalted ruler at Salt Lake City in 1902 and presided over the 1903 convention in Baltimore. Mr. Cronk came to Pennsylvania in 1911 from Omaha, Neb., where the greater part of his life was spent.

MESSAGE ENGAGING PRESIDENT'S TIME

Will Closely Confine Himself All This Week.

CALLERS TO BE BARRED

Chairman Fitzgerald Urged Inclusion in Message an Outline of Best Method for Raising Revenue for Appropriations.

Washington, Nov. 21. — President Wilson will devote his entire time this week to completing his third annual message to Congress, which he plans to read personally at a joint meeting of the Senate and House on December 7. He has given instructions that none but very important engagements be made for him. Even Tuesday's cabinet meeting may be cancelled. The President is working hard to have the message in the hands of the public printer before Thanksgiving Day. He has decided on the chief features after careful consultation with close advisers, and is now writing it out on his typewriter.

No attempt is being made to deal with all the questions pressing for solution, for the President plans to read special messages to Congress as occasions arise.

Confers on Appropriations.

Chairman Fitzgerald, of the House appropriations committee, conferred with the President tonight. Mr. Fitzgerald urged him to include in the message an outline of methods considered best for raising revenues to meet the appropriations for the administration national defense plans.

Mr. Fitzgerald directed attention to an amendment to the Sundry Civil bill of 1909, which provides that in case the estimated appropriations exceed the estimated revenues in any year, the President may: "Advise the Congress how, in his judgment the estimated appropriations could with least injury to the public service be reduced so as to bring the appropriations within the estimated revenues, if such reduction be not in his judgment practicable without undue injury to the public service, that he may recommend to Congress such loans or new taxes as may be necessary to cover the deficiency.

The view was taken by Mr. Fitzgerald that the President should at least indicate generally how he thought the needed money might be raised and it was considered probable tonight that this would be done. Other advisers of the President, however, have told him that since revenue measures must originate in the House, he ought not to appear to try to usurp that power.

Oppose Bond Issue.

Mr. Fitzgerald, Senator Underwood, and a number of other Democratic leaders of Congress, are known to be opposed to a bond issue to pay for the army and navy increases, for the reason that the expenditures for the purpose will have to be continued from year to year.

Although the President may not refer to all of the subjects in his message at the opening of Congress, the programme which the administration hopes to see disposed of includes:

Strengthening the army and navy in accordance with the plans outlined by Secretaries Garrison and Daniels; merchant marine bill; rural credit legislation; ratification of the Hatian, Colombian and Nicaraguan treaties; the bill to give greater measure of self-government to the Philippines and promising ultimate independence; conservation measures which failed of final passage at the last session; amendment of the anti-trust laws so as to allow the use of common selling agencies abroad by American exporters; legislation to protect the American market against the "dumping" of cheap foreign products following the European war; amendment of the Sherman anti-trust law so as to give the Federal government more power to prosecute plots to interfere with American commerce by blowing up factories and ships.

Interested in Budget System.

The administration also is interested in the efforts to establish a budget system for co-ordinating expenditures and revenues of the government, and in a cloture rule for the Senate. The President, however, is not expected to take a direct part in the cloture fight. Chairman Catrer Glass, of the House banking and currency committee, talked with the President tonight about banking questions.

PRESIDENT NICHOLS RESIGNS

Leaves Dartmouth College to Accept Professorship in Yale.

Boston, Nov. 21.—The retirement of Dr. Ernest Fox Nichols from the presidency of Dartmouth College at the close of the present year was announced by the board of trustees today. President Nichols has accepted an invitation to a chair of physics at Yale, thus returning to a field that in the past, he told the trustees, had gratified his every ambition and which he left reluctantly to accept the call to Dartmouth six and a half years ago.

The resolution was tendered at a special meeting of the trustees last Friday and was accepted with an expression of deep regret. His successor has not been fixed upon.

In his letter to the board, President Nichols said that when he was called to Hanover the college was passing through a critical period but that the needs of that earlier time had been already met.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 21.—Ten bodies were recovered today from the Northwest Improvement Company's coal mine at Ravensdale. The bodies of all the 31 victims of the explosion in the mine last Tuesday now have been brought to the surface.

SPORTS

CAROLINA'S STRENGTH IS POORER THIS YEAR

Football Record is Far Behind That of Virginia

Figures, Comparative Scores and Tabloid Forms of Numerals Reveal Interesting Facts—What Will Be the Result?

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Chapel Hill, Nov. 21.—Figures, comparative scores, and tabloid force of numerals reveal many interesting facts in regard to the Carolina football aggregation. In reviewing the results for this year the manipulator reaches certain conclusions which differ widely from those reached last year about this time. This year Carolina has scored 14 touchdowns thus far. Center George Tandy has kicked eight goals and had booted four dropkicks safely between the goal posts. The number of points scored by Carolina is 105, by opponents 84. Virginia has rolled up 206 points to her opponents' 26, giving her 101 points in excess of her Thanksgiving day rival.

How different was the story at this time last year! Carolina had scored 45 touchdowns; George Tandy had kicked 28 goals and two dropkicks. The number of points scored by Carolina last year was 316, by Virginia 332.

The North Carolina squad averages a little over three pounds to the man less than the Orange and Blue. The average weight of the Carolina first team is 171.5, while the average weight of the Virginia regulars is 174.5. Carolina's backfield averages 165.7 pounds to the man; Virginia's backfield averages 158. The bulkiest man in the Carolina backfield is Captain Dave Taloe who weighs 171; and he is pitted against ex-Captain Mayer, Virginia's heaviest backfieldsman of 170 pounds. The comparative weights of the rival backfields are as follows: Carolina, Long, quarter, 167; Captain Dave Taloe, left half, 171; MacDonald, right half, 160; Reid, fullback, 165. Virginia, Berkley, quarter, 136; Mayer, left half, 170; Ed. Anderson, right half, 162; Sparr, fullback, 165.

Virginia's line has a considerable margin over Carolina in avoirdupois. The average weight of the Tar Heel team from end to end is 175; the average weight of the lines from Virgina is 184. "Fatty" Cowell, Carolina's left guard, weighs 196; while Virginia's bulkiest linesman, Stillwell, right end, tips the scales at 200. In comparing the respective weights of the two teams, we find that for Carolina from end to end—Love, left end, weighs 150; Ramsay, left tackle, 175; Cowell, left guard, 196; Tandy, center, 177; J. Tayloe, right guard, 182; Boshamer, right tackle, 178; Homewood, right end, 178. The Virginia line runs as follows: White, l. e., 163, Moore, l. t., 179; Capt. Coleman, l. g., 187; Brown, center, 192; Thurman, r. g., 190; George Anderson, r. t., 177; Stillwell, r. e., 200.

It is a coincidence that the best kickers on each squad are also the tallest men on their respective squads. For Virginia, Thurman and Stillwell, the newly discovered punter, both stand six feet one; whereas Carolina's principal punter, Long, stands six-one, last year's punter, Dave Tayloe, is six-two and Tandy, Carolina's old reliable dropkicker, is of the same height.

Carolina has in Captain Dave Tayloe and Roy Homewood two members of the regular team who are serving their fourth year in the White and Blue uniform. Virginia's two bulwarks of strength, Capt. Harris Coleman and ex-Captain Mayer, will also don the Orange and Blue uniform for the last time this Thanksgiving. But next year Carolina will see such of her first string men perform as Ramsar, Cowell, Tandy, Reid, Parker and Love. That, however, is a problem for the future and not for the present.

LEADING ELEVENS AT ZENITH OF STRENGTH

No Radical Upsets in Saturday's Gridiron Contests.

Harvard's Squad Showed it Was the Usual Smooth and Powerful Combination—Summary of the Games.

New York, Nov. 21.—Making allowance for unsatisfactory weather conditions, eastern football teams played comparatively close to form in Saturday's games. That there were no radical upsets demonstrated that the leading elevens of the section had reached the zenith of their powers. Harvard's overwhelming victory over Yale showed that the Crimson machine was the usual smooth working and powerful combination that coach Haughton has been turning out for the past few weeks. Because of the extraordinary weakness of the Blue eleven, the visitors stand out with remarkable prominence but it is doubtful if the 1915 team was, on Saturday, any better than several of its recent predecessors.

Against the almost helpless Ellis, Captain Mahan's squad was so impressive that a false sense of proportions was inevitable. With a possible exception of a few individual playing features the Crimson simply outclassed the Blue. It was a finished Haughton product in which fair material had been welded around the star ability of Mahan.

The generalship plays, and concerted action of the winning combination were so superior to the game of the Ellis that the New Haven representatives were both physically and mentally helpless before their conquerers. Yale's elementary attack and defense, although powerful in a crude way, was absolutely no use against the tactical wiles and strategy of Harvard.

Next to the game in the Harvard stadium chief interest in the East centered in the Dartmouth-Syracuse struggle which ended in a scoreless tie. A true line on the respective merits of the elevens engaged is almost impossible since the teams met on a gridiron deep in mud while rain and high winds completed abominable playing conditions. In the division of credit Dartmouth must be awarded the palm for holding the powerful plunging backs of Syracuse to a no-score tie.

The Army and Navy elevens, did not depart from the form shown in preceding games. The Cadets overcame the Springfield training school team in a game which developed only fair football. Line plunging through the weak training school forwards was the Cadets' form of advance.

The Navy lost to Ursinus after a struggle in which the Middies continued to make the errors of judgment and in handling the ball which has marred their play all season. As the result of the showing of the two service elevens this fall the Army will enter the inter-academy games here next Saturday favored to defeat the navy.

In the other more important games of the weekend LaFayette triumphed over Lehigh in a hard-fought and brilliantly played contest. Rutgers romped through Stevens at will; Fordham won a close game from the Indians, Trinity defeated Wesleyan in a game in which George Brickley was the scoring star. Swarthmore found Haverford a hard opponent to down; Washington and Jefferson had little trouble in winding up a big total at Bethany's expense and a field goal gave Columbia victory over New York University.

BAPTISTS PREPARE FOR HARD BATTLE WITH PRESBYTERIANS

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wake Forest, N. C., Nov. 20.—The Wake Forest football squad has put in a hard week of practice in preparation for the approaching game with Davidson in Charlotte, N. C., on Thanksgiving Day. The Baptists are expecting a battle royal, and they are exerting themselves to the utmost in order to be in the prime of condition for the clash.

While the coach has been working the men hard this week he has been paying especial attention to the physical condition of the players, and scrimmage have been omitted since last Thursday. Manager Wright has arranged a game with the Fort Caswell eleven in Wilmington, N. C., for the scrubs, to be played on Thanksgiving. This has caused a large number of men to be on the field, and the squad is larger this year than it has been at this time in past seasons.

Wake Forest's eleven has shown marked improvement in the offense department as the season has progressed. The Baptists will present the strongest backfield they have had in years.

KITCHIN DENIES EVER SAYING THE PRESIDENT WAS INSINCERE

Says There is Not a Word of Truth in Published Reports.

(Special Star Telegram).

Scotland Neck, N. C., Nov. 21. — Our reporter asked Hon. Claude Kitchin tonight how about the telegram sent from Scotland Neck dated Nov. 20 and published in the Greensboro Daily News Sunday, November 21, in which it was stated that he, (Mr. Kitchin), said that President Wilson does not believe in the increase in the army and navy appropriations now advocated by his administration.

Mr. Kitchin replied that there is not a word of truth in it, that he never said any such thing and his published statement in the Sunday papers proves it. The author of this story is unknown to Mr. Kitchin and imposed upon the Greensboro News.

The reporter also asked him how much truth there was in the report published in several State papers a few days ago to the effect that he was preparing to run against Senator Simmons. He laughed at the idea saying that it is simply ridiculous. Senator Simmons and his friends know as well and I and my friends and many are mutual friends, that the report is absurd and not a shadow of truth in it.

RESERVATIONS FOR PRESIDENT

Will View Army-Navy Game From Both Sides of Stadium.

West Point, N. Y., Nov. 21.—Reservation on the Army side of the Brush Stadium in New York, where next Saturday's football game between West Point and Annapolis will be played, will be made for President Wilson and party, it was announced here today by Lieutenant Charles B. Meyer, secretary and treasurer of the Army Athletic Council. The President also will witness part of the game from the Navy side of the field, boxes having been reserved for his party on that side.

Lieutenant Meyer is being deluged with requests for seats by late applicants. All seats at his disposal have already been distributed, he said.

CHANGES NEXT YEAR

Fourteen of Harvard's Football Players Graduate This Year.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 21.—Harvard football followers, having celebrated the rout admistered to Yale yesterday, took account today of the stock in hand for next year's team. It was found that 14 of the 32 men who gained their letter will graduate next summer. Seven of these are members of the elevens which started the game, including Mahan, King, Soucy, Parson, Watson, Cowen and Wallace.

With the passing of Mahan goes the last of a trio of prominent in Harvard football history Brickley and Hardwick, his fellow members on two famous teams, having been graduated last year.

YALE SQUA DRETURNS

All Players Show Effect of Gruelling Contest With Harvard.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 21.—Yale's football players straggled back to town from Cambridge after the crushing defeat at the hands of Harvard on Saturday. All the players showed the effects of the gruelling game and Guernsey, Savage, C. Sheldon, and Chatfield-Taylor, have injuries that will require a physician's care for a few weeks.

The players will meet in a few days to elect a captain. The most likely candidates are considered to be "Chub Sheldon," a tackle, and Clinton Black, a guard. Of the 29 men who won their 'varsity letter in the Princeton and Harvard games 13 will be lost by graduation in June.

Tokio, Nov. 21.—In view of alarmist rumors concerning the Empress a semi-official statement was issued today asserting she is in perfect health.

EYES CENTERED UPON THANKSGIVING GAMES

Annual Football Fete for Southern Enthusiasts.

No Sensations Were Sprung in Saturday's Contests—Many Games Yet to Be Played Before Gridiron Season Ends.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 21.—The Georgetown-South Carolina game was the only contest yesterday between Southern football teams of the university class, and the outcome was a surprise only as to the size of the score. That Georgetown would win was generally expected, but after South Carolina's great showing in holding Virginia to two touchdowns, a fairly close game was expected. As it was South Carolina, minus the services of three of her best players who were ruled out because they played in the Virginia game, was utterly powerless to stop the smooth Georgetown machine and after a close first period, the Hilltop team scored almost at will, running up 61 points to South Carolina's nothing.

With Saturday's games out of the way, football enthusiasts are turning anticipatory eyes toward Thanksgiving Day. Probably the most important contests in the South will be the Virginia-North Carolina game at Richmond; the Auburn-Tech battle at Atlanta, the meeting of Sewanee and Vanderbilt at Nashville, and Washington and Lee vs. North Carolina Aggies at Norfolk, Va.

Although North Carolina enthusiasts have little hope of victory over Virginia, the meeting of the two teams always results in a spirited contest and is one of the football classics of the South Atlantic States. Virginia has a record of defeating Yale, Vanderbilt, South Carolina and Georgia, while the Tar Heels have suffered a more or less disastrous season. However, the team usually shows its best form against its traditional rival and an interesting game should be expected.

The result of the Auburn-Georgia Tech game will give a line on the strength of team in the old S. I.A.A. territory. Tech has not been defeated although Georgia University last week outplayed the Yellow Jackets on a muddy field in a scoreless game. Auburn was beaten on the same day and under much the same conditions by Vanderbilt. Auburn defeated Georgia several weeks ago.

The Vanderbilt-Sewanee contest is another holiday game with many possibilities. While the Tigers have shown little which would indicate a possible victory over the strong Commodore aggregation they always play desperately in this annual game.

Washington and Lee on past performances should rule a favorite over the North Carolina Aggies. The Generals have an excellent record for the season, including a tie game with Indiana and a close game with Cornell, against which team they scored twenty-one points. The Aggies, since defeating the Navy early in the season, have played a more or less erratic game, having lost to Georgetown a week ago by a big score.

Other games yet to be played include: Louisiana State vs. Tulane, at New Orleans; Texas Aggies vs. Mississippi Aggies, at College Station, Texas; Clemson vs. Georgia, at Athens; Florida vs. Mercer, at Macon, Ga.; Mississippi vs. Alabama, at Birmingham; Tennessee vsfl Kentucky, at Lexington, Ky.; Louisville vs. Transylvania, at Louisville, Ky.; Citadel vs. South Carolina, at Columbia, and the Inter-Sectional game between Texas and Notre

TEST OF SOUTHPORT WATER PLANT IS VERY SATISFACTORY

Three Thousand Gallons Pumped From Two Wells in Twenty Minutes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Southport, Nov. 21.—Yesterday the power was turned on at the city waterworks plant, and water was pumped from one of the wells into the receiving tank at the plant, there being but a short work out, in which time 3,000 gallons were pumped in twenty minutes. Everything moved in good shape. The plant is supplied with duplicate sets of engines, one set pumping from the wells into the receiving tank and the other pumping into the reservoir on Home street. The engines pumping into the reservoir in case of fire can pump direct into the water mains, although the reservoir, 90 feet high, will give a pressure of sufficient force to carry water above ainy building at present in the city. Five hundred gallons per minutes per engine is the capacity of these pumping engines.

The power to run the plant will be supplied by the Southport Electric Light and Power Co. The two wells from which the city will get its water supply, are 111 and 119 feet deep. The water has been analyzed and found to be of superior quality for drinking, and all purposes that it may be needed for. The receiving tank and the reservoir each have a capacity of 100,000 gallons.

It is expected to have water ready at fire hydrants on Monday, when President McNeill comes here to point the way for a volunteer fire department for this city.

MR. GEORGE G. BOGGS DEAD

Funeral Today From Methodist Church at Lumberton.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Lumberton, N. C., Nov. 21.—Mr. George B. Boggs, for many years an official of the M., K. & T. railway with headquarters at Dallas, Texas, died at the Thompson hospital here today at noon. Mr. Boggs came to Lumberton last summer in the hope of regaining his health but all efforts were of no avail. His wife, daughter and one son were with him when he passed away. The funeral will be conducted from the Methodist church tomorrow at 3 o'clock with Masonic honors.

PORTER CHARLTON RELEASED

Completes His Term of Twenty-Nine Days in Italy.

Como, Italy, (via Paris), Nov. 21.—Porter Charlton, the American, who recently was tried on a charge of murdering his wife and who was found guilty and sentenced to six years and eight months imprisonment, was released today. He is in good health and spirits.

By reason of the time that Charlton had been under arrest, restraint, and an additional one year taken from his sentence under an amnesty, Charlton was compelled to serve only 29 days in prison after his conviction and sentence. Charlton killed his wife in 1910 and placed the body in a trunk and threw it into Lake Como.

THEATRICAL

Indications point to the largest crowds that ever thronged the Greand Theatre, for the opening episode of the "German War Pictures" today. The big feature was the talk of everyone, when first announced last week, and much interest has been created in them already.

A prominent Wilmington business man stated Saturday that he witnessed the pictures in New York city, and that they were "the most wonderful war pictures I have ever seen—a revelation to me." They enjoyed a record run ot the Strand, New York's greatest photo-play theatre, and the Grand is presenting real big-city features in giving them to their patrons.

The German War Pictures are absolutely neutral, from an American point of view. They simply depict the wonderful fighting machine that has been built up by Germany during the past generation or so, and its effectiveness against their enemies in this titanic struggle. They make no plea for Germany's cause; they offer no excuse for Germany—nor for anyone else, for that matter. However, they are the most varied, the most complete and the most spectacularly interesting war pictures that have ever been filmed anywhere.

That great star, Maurice Costello, supported by Leah Baird, presents a great two-reel dramatic feature, "The Gods Redeem," built about the lives of a girl pickpocket and a man who has sunk to the lowest social level. Then there's another great "Ham" comedy, "Ham's Easy Eats," filling up the big bill for today.

"Zaza, Royal, Today.

Did you read that unbiased criticism of the Moving Picture World on the Paramount production, "Zaza," in yesterday's theatrical column? If you didn't, get yesterday's Star and read it.

"Pauline Frederick undoubtedly put her whole soul in 'Zaza.'" "Her portrayal of 'Zaza' even more than her work in 'The Eternal City' shows the quality of the woman, her all-around emotional power." "Miss Frederick shows us a "Zaza" who is as intense in her hate, in her desire for revenge, as she is demonstrative in her love; a hate that is stilled in the present of the man who has deceived her"—" 'Zaza' dominates in the wakening, in the tenderness of the love passages, playful or serious; in the tearless, but none the less great sorrow in which she sees him go out of her life."

These are some of the words spoken of "Zaza," starring Pauline Frederick, which the free-lance writer of the "World" wrote. Need we say more in commendation of that great offering which is on at the Royal today? It's even stronger than the press matter prepared by the Paramount people. A feature of this kind does not require boosting. That's why the Royal management guarantees it as the very biggest Paramount offering of the year, so far. Don't miss it, today!

RECORD TOBACCO SALES

Rocky Mount Market This Season Has Handled 12,500,000 Pounds

(Special Star Correspondence).

Rocky Mount, N. C., Nov. 21. — With a sale of more than a million pounds of bright leaf tobacco during the past week the Rocky Mount tobacco market brings its season's total to 12,500,000 pounds, the largest single season's sale in the history of the market. The million pounds sold the past week broke away from season's averages also, and leaving the eleven and twelve cent averages behind, the market jumped into new ground with an average of $16.08 a hundred. This sensational advance brought the average for the season to $12.54 a hundred. This total means that the planters of this section have been paid a grand total of $1,567,500 for that part of their crop which they have marketed.

In These Institutions There Are Several Thousand Fatherless Children Being Trained for Good Citizenship

TO EVERY FRIEND OF THE FATHERLESS.

The North Carolina Orphans' Association urges upon every man, woman, and child in the State of North Carolina the importance of contributing one day's income to the Orphanage of his or her choice as a Thanksgiving offering.

THOMASVILLE BAPTIST ORPHANAGE.

The Thomasville Baptist Orphanage was founded in the year 1885. For ten years John H. Mills was its General Manager. His work was hard and his burden was heavy. He laid the foundation upon which the present splendid structure stands. To this day the power and pathos of his appeals are remembered by those who heard him in that time of trial and hardship. Many a time the supply at the Orphanage was exhausted, but light always streamed in and scattered the darkness.

During Mr. Mills' management the institution acquired three hundred acres of land upon which buildings were erected sufficient to shelter 150 children. He laid the cause on the hearts of our people. This was the supreme work to which he was called, and no man in our State has ever done a greater.

Rev. Jesse Bynum Boone was elected at the annual meeting of 1895 to succeed Mr. Mills. Mr. Boone also gave the Orphanage ten years of unselfish service. Under his management many new and commodious buildings were erected and the general equipment of the institution was vastly improved.

At the end of the second decade Rev. M. L. Kesler, then pastor of the Church at Morganton, assumed control of the Orphanage. This was in the year 1905. His work has been along the line of the improvement of the organization and equipment and the general development of the Orphanage life on the broad basis laid by his predecessors.

There are ten separate families. They average 38 members to the household. Each of these homes is presided over by two women, a teacher and a matron. The duties of each are well defined and do not conflict.

There are 41 regular employees of the Orphanage, 31 women and 10 men. The scale of wages is fixed by the Board of Trustees. The members of the Board receive no compensation for their services.

OXFORD ORPHAN ASYLUM.

Since its establishment in 1872, this institution has helped 3,075 needy children. Those who have gone out from us will compare most favorably with the young men and women who have been raised in homes and educated in the schools and colleges of the State. A very small per cent of them have been utter failures. Some of them are occupying very prominent places in the religious, business and social life of our country.

The Institution is constantly growing in efficiency and the number being cared for is ever increasing. We have added several features to our work in the past few years which are calculated to be of great benefit to the children. These have increased our expenses. This year we added still another department, that of caring for children under six years of age, and this increased our capacity to take care of 45 more children. This addition will add about $4,500.00 to our expenses each year, and this increased expense has not been provided for. We are depending on our friends to help us out in this, in addition to what they have been doing in the past. We want to keep out of debt.

We are taking care of more children than ever in the history of this work, and have made and are now making every effort to care for every child we can. Our enrollment has now reached 370.

It cost us last year $41,847.28 to maintain the children, not including $7,782.13 paid for repairs, improvements, etc. The per capita cost was $9.49 per month. Notwithstanding the fact that we did not have the small children to provide for, we spent all the money we received last year, and could have used a good deal more for repairs which should have been made.

We are sadly in need of money for these repairs. It takes considerable money for this purpose in a large institution like ours, and we have been compelled for several years to postpone doing needed painting and other repairs, just as much needed, because we did not have the money to do them with.

Main Building, Orphan Asylum,
Oxford, N. C.

We do not consider our duty to our children performed by merely giving them something to eat and wear. It is as much our duty to fit them for some useful occupation when they leave us, as it is to feed them while they are in the Institution. We are undertaking to do this, and it costs a considerable amount of money in addition to food and clothing.

In closing this statement I would like to get the ear and attention of some of our citizens who have the means, and to impress them with the idea that they might materially assist us in our great work by turning over to our Board of Directors such sums as they may feel disposed to give, to be invested and the interest therefrom go to doing needed repairs and improvements. This is one of our great needs. Our current receipts are not now sufficient to take care of our running expenses and do the repair and improvement work. We need funds we can reasonably count on for the general upkeep and improvement of the property. Yearly donations will not do it. And unless some of our large-hearted citizens do come to our relief we will suffer.

R. L. BROWN,
Superintendent.
Oxford, N. C.

PRESBYTERIAN ORPHANS' HOME.

It was in the year 1883 that the Synod of North Carolina took the first active steps toward founding what is now known as The Presbyterian Orphans' Home, located at Barium Springs. With the aid of a few godly women in Charlotte, seconded by Messrs. Geo. E. Wilson and R. B. Alexander, a building was secured and a beginning was made under the matronage of Mrs. P. T. Penick. The number of children seeking refuge in this home, with limited room and resources, the Synod of North Carolina wisely determined to take this feeble institution under its own management.

The removal from Charlotte to Barium Springs occurred January 11, 1891. During the 24 years of its existence it has sheltered, educated and morally trained 650 boys and girls, who have spent an average of four years each in the home.

Presbyterian Orphanage Grounds,
Barium Springs, N. C.

The pressing needs are additional buildings to care for the large number of children already knocking at our doors. This need can more easily be met by some godly man or woman remembering the orphans in his or her will and thereby make provision for a memorial building at Barium Springs.

The outlook was never brighter. We are caring for 202 children, giving them the best in educational and industrial training. The Presbyterians of North Carolina have never failed to meet any demand or request that has been made of them for the fatherless. A splendid system of waterworks, sewerage and electric lights was installed a few years ago. Last year a magnificent school building was completed. At the present time a central heating plant is being put into operation at a cost of $11,500.00.

All that is needed in the way of support of the children is for the brethren of our Church to respond liberally to the "One-Day-for-the-Orphans" movement at Thanksgiving. Our hope is that all the brethren will give as God has prospered them, and that the minimum will be the income of a day.

JAS. P GRAY,
Editor Our Fatherless Ones, for Supt. W. T. Walker.

THE METHODIST ORPHANAGE.

The Methodist Orphanage was founded by the North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in the year 1900, under the leadership of that far-seeing Christian statesman, Rev. J. W. Jenkins, who was an honored member of our Conference. In launching this great enterprise there were many obstacles to overcome, but the faith and zeal of Rev. J. W. Jenkins brushed them all aside and laid the foundation for an institution destined to become one of the State's most valuable assets.

Rev. J. W. Jenkins was the first Superintendent of the Methodist Orphanage and acted in this capacity for five years, until God called him home. During his administration two buildings were erected, costing about $55,000.00, and 30 acres of land in the northern part of the city of Raleigh were purchased.

Rev. J. N. Cole succeeded Rev. J. W. Jenkins and was Superintendent about nine years. Under his wise administration the Orphanage grew by leaps and bounds until we now have seven brick buildings on the campus and 95 acres of land, with an endowment of over $60,000.00.

The Methodist Orphanage has attained a greater success in ministering to the homeless children in our midst than the most sanguine in our Church ever dreamed that it would in such a short time. While the growth has been phenomenal in many ways, it has not kept pace with the ever-increasing demands made upon her by the multitude of Orphan children that have knocked at her door for maintenance and training. During the past year more than fifty applications for the admission of boys have been turned down because of the lack of room. Likewise many applications for girls have been declined because of limited space for girls.

We now have 86 boys and 100 girls under our fostering care. If we had the necessary buildings and funds we could give shelter to twice that number in a very short time. Many pathetic appeals are turned down nearly every week because of our limited equipment and lack of funds to go forward in this most praiseworthy work.

A. S. BARNES,
Supt. Methodist Orphanage.

THOMPSON ORPHANAGE AND TRAINING INSTITUTION.

The Thompson Orphanage and Training Institution was opened on May 9th, 1887, with the Rev. Edwin A. Osborne as Superintendent, Miss Elizabeth J. Mackay as matron, and with four children as inmates. The total number enrolled since that time is 524.

The property consists at present of about seventy acres of land lying one mile east of the center of the city of Charlotte, with buildings valued at $30,000, and was originally devoted to a school for boys, founded by the Rev. Benjamin S. Bronson with funds mainly given by the family of Mr. Lewis Thompson, of Bertie county, after whom the Orphanage is named. In 1886 Mr. Bronson turned this property, then consisting of one building and some eighty acres of land, over to the Diocese of North Carolina for the use of an Orphanage with the proviso that the Rev. E. A. Osborne should be the Superintendent. Mr. Osborne raised the necessary funds for starting the institution, and successfully conducted it until 1898, when he resigned to become chaplain in the Spanish-American War, and was succeeded by the present Superintendent, the Rev. Walter J. Smith, of Scotland Neck. The title of the property is vested in the Trustees of the Diocese of North Carolina, but the institution is patronized and supported by the Episcopal Church in the whole State. The present Board of Managers consists of the Rt. Rev. Jos Blount Cheshire, D. D., chairman ex-officio, Raleigh; the Rev. E. A. Osborne, Charlotte; the Rev. W. H. Hardin, Salisbury; the Rev. W. E. Cox, Wilmington; Mr. F. R. Rose, Fayetteville, and Col. A. H. Boyden, Salisbury.

Thompson Hall, Thompson Orph'n'ge,

There are at present sixty-five children on the roll, supported mainly by the voluntary contributions of our people at a cost of $10.50 a month per capita. A part of this support comes from an endowment fund of fifteen thousand dollars, and a part from the farm which furnishes vegetables and milk for the children, and gives training to the boys. We operate on the cottage plan, whereby each of our three buildings is complete in itself, with its own kitchen, dining-room and laundry. Sewing and music are taught by special teachers, and the school is taught by a senior and primary teacher. A short service is held in the chapel every day at noon, and full service on Sundays, morning and afternoon, with Sunday-school in the forenoon. Two years ago two brick buildings were erected, one for the Superintendent's home and the other for a children's cottage. The former was built mainly with funds left by Mr. James Stedman, of Fayetteville, and the latter by the Federation of Orphanage Guilds in the State. The old buildings are now being altered and repaired.

We are urging all of our Sunday-schools to work for the Orphanage, and we heartily endorse the idea of "One Day's Work," or income, as a Thanksgiving offering.

METHODIST PROTESTANT CHILDREN'S HOME.

The Methodist Protestant Children's Home was founded by the North Carolina Branch of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Methodist Protestant Church in 1910, at Denton, N. C., in an old forsaken school-house. Miss Mabel Williams was the first matron and opened the Home with three children. Prof. George L. Reynolds, principal of the Denton High School, gave free tuition to the children that were taken.

Interest increased so rapidly that at the end of the first year it was found that a permanent home must be provided. The services of the men were enlisted and soon a thirty days' campaign was started and $20,000 paid in and pledged for the work. A farm was secured within two miles of High Point and a modern building erected. The Trustees saw that it would be wise to put $10,000 more into the plant than had been planned at first. The money was borrowed and now the best business men in and out of the Church say that it was a wise investment.

In August, 1913, just three years after the opening of an old schoolhouse, the children were moved to the present home with modern conveniences, where they are given manual training.

Miss Williams was succeeded as matron at Denton by Miss Etta Auman and Mrs. Fannie E. Page. The present Superintendent took charge on the removal to High Point.

Interest has continued to grow, and now it is hoped that with the Thanksgiving movement and a little extra effort the debt will be cancelled and the use of the home increased. While the home is under the management of the Methodist Protestant Church, children of other denominations and of parents who are not connected with any Church are not debarred. The object is to be of the greatest usefulness to humanity.

A boys' building is badly needed, and this offers an opportunity for some one to build a monument to their name. Build now while you have an opportunity to enjoy it. It may be by your delay that some bright boy or girl may be lost. Act today; some one else may control your property tomorrow.

NAZARETH ORPHANS' HOME.

Nazareth Orphans' Home, located at Crescent, in Rowan County, North Carolina, was chartered by the Classis of North Carolina of the Reformed Church in the United States, on October 30, 1906. The names of Rev. S. W. Beck, Rev. W. B. Duttera, Rev. C. B. Heller, Rev. H. A. M. Holshouser, Rev. J. M. L. Lyerly, Rev. J. L. Murphy and Mr. John H. Moose appear on the charter as incorporators.

Land was purchased at various times aggregating 106 acres, with two large two-story houses, two barns and several out-buildings thereon.

The object of the Home is "To provide for orphans, friendless, and destitute children, without reference to their place of birth, or the creed of their parents, and to educate and train them to lead industrious, moral and religious lives."

The home was formally opened in December, 1906, with five children, and with Miss Mary P. Abbot in charge as Superintendent. In 1908, Miss Abbott was succeeded by Prof. H. F. Frick as Superintendent and Mrs. Frick as Matron. In 1909, Prof Frick and Mrs. Frick were succeeded by Rev. Dr. E. G. Williams as Superintendent and Mrs. Williams as Matron. These, in turn, were succeeded in 1911 by Rev. J. W. Bell as Superintendent and Mrs. Bell as Matron. The home is still in their charge.

The number of children has grown from 5 to 41. Many applications have been refused for want of room and the means to support a larger number of children.

The Home is controlled by a

Nazareth Orphans' Home,
Crescent, N. C.

Board of Managers composed of twelve members elected by the Classis of North Carolina of the Reformed Church in the United States. While it is owned and controlled by the Reformed Church, it does not limit its beneficence to its own denomination, but takes in children of other Church relationship and, especially, those of no Church relationship, as it is able to do so.

The farm connected with the Home is not very productive, yet last year it yielded crops and farm products to the value of $1,351.39.

A new building, erected of native granite, for school, chapel and dormitory purposes, is in process of completion. Money is needed to finish and equip this building. The total cost of this building will be about $10,000.

The only persons employed at the Home are the Superintendent and Matron and one young man. More help is needed, but to have that help, a larger current fund must be provided. For the coming year we should have $5,000 for current expenses.

THE CHILDREN'S HOME.

The following sketch of the Children's Home, of Winston-Salem, was written by Rev. N. R. Richardson:

At the session of the Western North Carolina Conference held in November, 1904, a committee of five—three preachers and two laymen—were appointed, to be known as the Orphanage Commission—they were to consider the question and confer with the Superintendents and Trustees of the Raleigh Orphanage as to the practicability of uniting with the North Carolina Conference in jointly owning the institution they had established at Raleigh. This they did by correspondence and personal consultations for two years

A Childrens' Home Building,
Winston-Salem, N. C.

The commissioners attended the North Carolina Conference in December, a few weeks after the adjournment of our conference, but no agreement could be reached, there being some legal difficulties which prevented the N. C. Conference from accepting our proposition.

The commission accepted their answer as final, and at the following session of our Conference held in Salisbury in November 1907, the commissioners made their report, setting forth the failure of their mission to the North Carolina Conference, and recommending that the Western North Carolina Conference establish an institution of its own.

They submitted a charter and plan of organization which was adopted by the Conference, after a lively and interesting discussion, participated in by Drs. S. B. Turrentine, G. H. Detwiler, L. W. Crawford and N. R. Richardson and others. This was Thursday, November 14, 1907.

A Board of Trustees was elected at the Conference, and the Trustees organized by electing G. H. Detwiler, President; N. R. Richardson, Vice-President, and George F. Ivey, Secretary and Treasurer.

The Trustees at once took up the question of location for the Children's Home. Propositions and offers came from Hickory, Lincolnton, Winston-Salem and some other points. The Board held meetings in Statesville, Hickory, Salisbury and Winston-Salem, hearing representations by citizens from the towns seeking its location in their midst. At a meeting on April 28th, a majority report from the special committee appointed to visit and inspect the different sites offered, favored Winston-Salem, while a minority report favored Hickory. When a vote for location was taken by a full Board eight votes were cast for Winston-Salem and four votes for Hickory. The vote for Winston-Salem was then made unanimous, Winston-Salem offering $15,000 to purchase a tract of land west of the city. The Trustees reported their proceedings to the Annual Conference, held in Asheville, November, 1908. At that session Rev. J. P. Rodgers was elected and appointed by Bishop Atkins as financial agent of the institution.

THE CHRISTIAN ORPHANAGE.

The Christian Orphanage, authorized by the Southern Christian Convention and chartered by the laws of the State of North Carolina, is located on a beautiful eminence south of the railroad and in full view of Elon College. A commodious two-story brick building, equipped with electric lights, water and sewerage and a central heating system, furnishes a home for our Orphanage family of fifty. A farm of 116 acres furnishes helpful employment for the boys when not in school. The girls are taught to do all kinds of domestic work.

The institution is supported entirely by free-will offerings in the following manner: Each Church is asked to make an annual Thanksgiving offering on or near Thanksgiving, and all the Sunday-schools requested to contribute one offering per month to the maintenance of the institution. Individual gifts and bequests are solicited.

The doors of the Christian Orphanage were opened to receive orphan children January 1, 1907, and the first child admitted on the 29th of that month. Since then our institution has been privileged to administer to 100 indigent children.

The capacity of our buildings is limited to fifty, which has long since been reached, and we have many needy and worthy applications on file. Sleeping-porches are being constructed on the rear of the building which will, when completed, furnish sleeping quarters for 25 more children. This will enlarge our capacity to seventy-five, provided our maintenance fund can be increased sufficient to care for this number.

It cost $100 per year, or eight and a third dollars per month to maintain a child in our institution. If twenty-five Sunday-schools, Churches or individuals will furnish the money we can open the door of opportunity to twenty-five more children. We are anxious to give a Christian home and educational opportunities to the many promising boys and girls that are knocking at our doors, but we are unable to do so unless our friends supply the necessary funds. Will not many who read these lines make an investment in immortal character? We are conserving every other resource of the State; why not save our boys and girls?

THE PYTHIAN HOME.

The Home for orphaned Pythian children was founded by the Grand Lodge of the Knights of Pythias, of North Carolina, in 1910 at Clayton, N. C., and was opened for the reception of children on the third day of April, 1911. The original site, containing twenty acres, upon which the buildings are situated, was donated to the Grand Lodge by the firm of J. G. Barbour & Sons, with an additional twenty acres by the brethren of Clayton Lodge No. 137, together with $7,000 in cash donated by the citizens of Clayton and nearby community. The property now owned by the Grand Lodge has increased to 183 acres of very fine farm land, together with all necessary buildings; the main buildings being equipped with water and electric lights, steam heated and comfortably furnished. The capacity of the Home is such that we are able to take care of fifty children; since the Home has been open for the care of children we have cared for forty-eight children, and now have in the Home thirty-five. A music teacher is employed and stays at the Home. By an agreement with the school authorities arrived at before the Home was placed at Clayton, we have free and full access to the very fine graded and high schools of the town of Clayton.

I. O. O. F. HOME.

The I. O. O. F. Home was founded in the year 1892 for the purpose of caring for those children left destitute by the death of brother Odd Fellows. No children except those of Odd Fellows in good standing with their lodges are admitted to this home. The original plot on which the institution is situated was donated by Brother W. A. J. Peacock, of Goldsboro.

From one small building worth only a few hundred dollars it has grown to be one of great importance among sister institutions, comprising five splendid buildings and one hundred acres of fine land. The valuation of the entire plant is estimated at $150,000. It is at present caring for 190 inmates.

An intermediate, primary and high school is maintained on the premises for the educational benefit of the children. Besides this there is the farm demonstration work and a commercial course. The working force of supervisors comprises a superintendent, head matron, four matrons, seven teachers, a farmer and a visiting physician.

The Home is entirely out of debt and has cash on hand to meet its monthly expenses. The future outlook is exceedingly bright. We have but one urgent need, a horse and cow barn. Other additions that could be installed to advantage would be the conversion of the present school building into an up-to-date modern laundry; and erect a first-class school building to match the handsome Memorial Building that was erected to the sacred memory of our Brother Nathaniel Jacobi, who bears the honor of having been the founder of the Home.

CHILDREN'S HOME SOCIETY.

The North Carolina Children's Home Society was organized during the year of 1903 and was incorporated November 12th of that year, the purpose of this organization being to extend aid to all worthy cases of helpless and homeless children, and to secure homes for them with good Christian people. The plan of work of the Society is as follows: Query blanks giving full information regarding children who are in need of help and care are sent to those who are interested in such children and if, after careful investigation it is found that the children are either homeless or helpless, and that they have no relatives of the proper sort who can be responsible for them, or if the parent or parents are immoral, criminals, or vicious, or incompetent, or if it is found that by means of taking the child both the child and the parent can be benefited, such cases are received by the Children's Home Society. The applications which are received for children require full information regarding religious and educational advantages, and the care that can be given them in the homes, conditions surrounding the homes, reasons for making application for a child or children, etc. These applications are thoroughly investigated and when it is found that the purpose of the applicants is to receive the children with the object of trying to be of service to them, and to do for them as they would children of their own, children are placed in such approved homes for a period of ninety days, during which time the applicant can return the child or children to the Society if they care to do so. In case it is found that the child has not been placed in the right home, or if there has been any mistreatment or lack of advantages, the children are taken from such homes and replaced in others. It is the purpose of the Society to handle each case carefully, and to place "the right child in the right home."

It is the plan of the Society to have such visits made as are necessary from time to time to keep in close touch with the children placed in the homes which have received them. Also to receive frequent reports from the home giving full information regarding school reports, the help and development of the children.

Some people can hear a thing and then tell it as if they had heard it with a dozen ears with drums all beating a different tune.

When most men make a mistake they make a bigger one by trying to explain it. Several gentlemen who oppose national defense need not regard this as personal unless they prefer to do it.

Secretary Redfield's advice to everybodoy is to "get busy, make money and keep cool." As a general thing most of us will keep cool because it takes money to keep warm.

New York boasts of a dinosau specimen that is three million years old. That is cause for wonder, of course, but the dinosau would not be in it with a debutante who had been one for a hundred years.

A Massachusetts paper remarks: "There is not one chance in a thousand that the next Republican candidate for the presidency will come from New England." This shows that even the Republicans know New England.

So long as the people of this country can pay out money for the privilege of listening to big talk, we know that some of the people of this country have no reason to complain of hard times. We pay out millions of dollars for listening.

The Jacksonville Times-Union is responsible for the statement that "a West Virginia woman is said to be cutting her sixth set of teeth." Well, if it's so, all we've got to say is that she keeps on being adequately prepared to chew the rag.

Wild geese are flocking to the South but it is not a sign of cold weather here. It is a sign of cold weather whence they came to seek open feeding grounds in the Sunny South. Wild geese come South for the reason that other tourists come.

This one was sent out to right by the Durham Herald (independent): "The Republicans are telling us what they hope to do, but the public knows just how to take it." When we think of North Carolina first, we know exactly how to take what Republicans tell us they hope to do. We know right away that they hope to do North Carolina.

A taxpayer in North Carolina looks like a piker alongside the taxpayer in some states where we have seen the tax collectors gathering in buckwheesh. Republicans who are always trying to make capital with complaints of Democratic taxation ought to be marooned in some states where they could be held up by a real tax gatherer on his rounds with a jute sack. When some people ought to be happy they seem to prefer to throw fits.

Dr. Seaman says the United States is "universally hated," but that is natural owing to the fact that the Republicans made it obnoxious for fifty years. The Democrats, are going to do something that will enable the United States to command more respect than it got when the Republicans were active in gaining contempt fo it. What the Democrats need is plenty of time to overhaul everything that was dragged down during years and years of Republican exploitology.

REPRESENTATIVE KITCHIN'S STATEMENT

The day for open discussion has not closed in North Carolina, hence The Star as well as other North Carolina papers could have been depended upon to have published Representative Claude Kitchin's statement as to the "adequate preparedness programme" without his having felt the necessity of asking for the use of their columns. The Sunday Star published a fairly full summary of Mr. Kitchin's statement with interest as well as with pleasure in the doing so.

The North Carolina press is not a censored forum and neither will be the United States House of Representatives where Representative Kitchin knows he can speak without permission of the Seven Seas Magazine, which, fortunately, has no jurisdiction in the matter of denying the floor of the House to opponents of the programme for a larger army and a greater navy.

On the matter of national preparedness, we are in the same boat with the Seven Seas Magazine, but we do not represent the Navy League and have not followed up its propaganda, whether it be a patriotic one or one for special interests, as the opponents of preparedness charge generally against the movement to safeguard the Nation by adequate military and naval establishments. Most of the papers in North Carolina have differed with rather than criticised Mr. Kitchin on his position. They have differed in opinion with him in about the same way that he has had a friendly difference with the President.

In defense of his attitude opposing any military or naval increase Represent Kitchin makes a strong showing for his side of the question, provided he can substantiate his declarations. There are two sides to it, and either the advocates of a more efficient army and navy are right or Mr. Kitchin is right. After all, the main question is not whether all he says about the army and navy is true but whether with all of it true this country is even then physically prepared to defend itself from attack by any one of a half dozen world powers which are better prepared than is the United States.

The contention that "we are threatened from no quarter" has very little to do with it, for we are liable not to be threatened today but tomorrow or some other time. It is not the present but the future that this country has to consider.

Representative Claude Kitchin contends that this country has the second strongest navy in the world. Only Great Britain's navy is ahead of that of the United States, while Germany's is not equal to the American navy, as said. These are statements and claims which experts affirm and deny but so long as the question is in doubt the safest course is to get at the facts and see to it that this Nation is adequately prepared for any eventuality. That is all the President wants and that is all the country needs.

The sum and substance of Representative Kitchin's contention is that the Nation already is adequately prepared, and if it is a question of fact it might be easily proved but for the very probable reason that no American naval authority really knows the strength of the German navy at present, nor even is the navy of another very formidable nation known as to its exact effective units.

So far as armies are concerned, military experts know that our army, except for the effectiveness of its small force, is not to be compared with the trained armies of millions of men subject to the call of the militaristic nations.

It is a matter for Congress to determine and we cannot see that outside discussion is even relevant till Congress goes over the situation—not in an argument but in the investigation of a purely national necessity.

Because some people say that the country needs an army of 500,000 men and a much larger navy does not make it so; but it may be true. Those who contend that the country already is adequately prepared may be correct but the country will have to be convinced that it is a fact. It is for Congress to sit as a jury and decide in the best interest of the Nation.

If Representative Kitchin can prove his claim for the present strength of the navy he is the man to route those Republicans who have been heaping criticism upon the Wilson administration for permitting the navy, as they allege, to become a lot of floating junk.

WONDERFUL DISCOVERIES AND NEW REVELATIONS

Wonderful discoveries are always worthy of record and new revelations surely challenge the attention of the world. That is as it should be, and yet there are some discoveries and new revelations that are looked upon too much as a matter of course. Christopher Columbus discovered America, while Amerigo Vespucci, a bold navigator, made explorations along the coast and discovered the extent of the New World, and it is in his honor that America was named. The discoverers and explorers had wonderful stories to reveal, but they could tell only part of it. However, the story is yet being unfolded by others, including ourselves.

The explorers who came along the North Carolina coast and reported it to be "a goodly country" only got a glimpse of it, but they realized that it was a country of resources, possibilities and opportunities worth the attention of the people in the known world. They could not go into particulars like Bion H. Butler when he lands in a community and makes a possibility survey of it.

On thing that the bold navigators never knew was that, while they gave this "goodly country" its first publicity, they had landed in a quarter of the New World with a soil and climate capable of growing four different kinds of crops in one season just as the farmers of Eastern North Carolina are doing season after season without thinking enough about it to tell it and give the details of the results in profits. They do it and pocket the profits, and yet now and then some of their experiences leak out. A farmer who never thought enough about it to tell his name recently came to the city with a wagon load of fine turnips, most of which averaged nearly five pounds in weight. They were of fine quality, but the best part of it is that the crop was the fourth successive of three previous crops on the same land. The first was a crop of fine watermelons which were sold at good prices. When they were gone, the land was plowed deep and planted in yellow Dent corn, which turned out nearly 100 bushels per acre. The land was next planted in six-weeks peas and again a fine yield was harvested. The stubble was turned under early in September and the land is now literally loaded with a turnip crop that sells readily whenever the farmer can bring any to the city.

However, he says he is also turning them into profit on his farm. He is feeding them to his cows and hogs, is getting a continuous crop of milk and butter and when the weather gets cold enough he will finish up by killing fat hogs enough to supply meat to everybody on the farm, with a good surplus of hickory smoked meat to dispose to epicureans.

The first three crops raised on the land were not considered so very remarkable, but the Nation's Garden Spot farmer did think it was worthwhile to brag about his turnip crop, for he estimates that he will get twenty tons of turnips from one acre of land. He is cooking them with cracked corn, cottonseed meal and peas and the finished products are for consumption in the shape of milk, butter and pork.

We think this a right remarkable revelation, but considering the milk, butter and meat, isn't that seven harvests that a farmer can gather off the same land in this productive portion of the Nation's Garden Spot?

AN INDUSTRIES CAMPAIGN NOW

Now that the corn show and agricultural and industrial fair has shown what Wilmington can do when it tries, the next thing for us to do is to start an industries campaign. We can do it by systematically mobilizing for the work through our organized bodies. In the first place, we ought to have an industrial survey of the city to ascertain its industrial strength.

We may have industries that need more capital for necessary enlargement, while there certainly are industries that should be established because of the adaptabilities here. We will never known anything about it till we go to work and find out. We will have to make a study of our established industries and make a study of the possibilities, the adaptabilities and the opportunities here for numerous lines of industry. It will pay us to do it.

We understand that an organization will be put behind the fair for next fall, and that it is proposed to organize within a couple of weeks. The earlier the better, for there is a lot of work to be done. As soon as that matter is out of the way, the campaign for industries ought to get in line all the forces that have contributed to the marvelous success of the fair. Wilmington ought to be big enough and live long enough to pull off both propositions at the same time, anyhow.

IMPRESSIONS GATHERED AT THE BABY SHOW

(By a Spectator.)

An illustrated sermon, suchas is seldom the privilege of Wilmingtonians to see and hear, was delivered at the Corn Show yesterday afternoon. It was not billed as a sermon else the great attendance might have suffered, but one had only to look and listen to recognize the forceful lesson in humanity that the babies and their parents were teaching.

It was a contest for babies. The finest baby was to receive distinction and a prize. So each mother, whether her baby be handsome or homely, bubbling over with health or sickly, forthwith desided to take HER baby to the baby show. And why not, for was not her baby the finest, the grandest, the darlingest child that ever was? Why shouldn't her baby carry off the coveted honor?

So all, or nearly all, the good mothers in Wilmington and for miles around, arose early on the big day and eagerly began the preparations that would enhance the charms of her darling. Not that her baby needed fine clothes to show off its superiority but then all the other babies there would have fine feathers and maybe the judges would be stupid enough to be blinded with finery. She took no chance; she left no loop hole through which the judges could possibly creep.

Baby was bathed and the frills skillfully arranged. The loving mother's eyes shown brightly in her pleasure and anticipation. The journey to the Corn Show was begun. With light and confident heart the adoring mother approached the big tents of the Corn Show. The mother's eyes reflected wonder at the crowd of other mothers, nurses and babies, whose objective point seemed the same as hers, trying to gain admission to the big show. She had not thought there would be so many competitors.

With confidence undaunted the mother pushed and squeezed her way to the ticket booth; edged and squirmed her way into the entrance of the tent and there she beheld hundreds of babies waiting for their prize. Something deep down in the woman's heart stirred and she experienced a thrill she had never known. It was the "primitive" in the mother. She tightened her hold on her baby and faced the judges with an air of challenge. The judges worked their way nearer and nearer. The mother's heart fluttered. Nervously she soothed her baby's whimperings. The judges were looking at HER baby. Oh, wonderful moment. A flush of excitement mantled the mother's cheeks. The judges passed on to the next baby. For a moment the mother stood motionless, bewildered. It took some time for her to readjust her mental condition. A feeling of resentment, disappointment and muffled anger rushed over her. It was unfair. Her baby WAS the prize baby. And so it was to HER. As she moved slowly to the exit, she kept repeating it to herself. Her baby now seemed more precious than ever. If those judges did not think hers the prize baby, she did. She loved it more than ever. How tenderly would she care for it, more now than ever before. It was a story of mother love, as fine a sermon as can be preached.

A stalwart officer of the law counted the babies as they were carried from the big tent and as he counted "one" for this baby and its mother, he might have added, "another prize winner;" the baby's prize, the wonderful love of a mother and for the mother, a baby—her baby, the biggest prize a human can win.

MR. KEITH ON PREPAREDNESS

To the Editor of The Star:

If we review Europe's actions for the last twenty years or more we find that the "war lords" have been preaching preparedness, large army and large navy. Though are not they now reaping their reward and so will any nation and people who allow their military interest to dominate their government?

"Idleness is the devil's tool box—" social clubs, where the idle, well paid officials go to promulgate ideas, generally displaying their ambitious conceit, yet the poor tax payer foots the bill. The result is that after you prepare for a wedding you want one of some kind and generally you have it.

The American people believe this country needs an adequate defense, but not a military dictatorship as Europe has had for centuries. Carrying this policy of preparedness to the extreme, it will result in the extermination of all that is worthwhile.

Peace, plenty, and good will to all is the doctrine that has built up this great American nation, and it will continue to unless the special interests who live directly or indirectly around Washington and clubhouses, and who are consumers and not producers, mislead our legislators.

It is easy to drift with the current but it takes courage to stand for principles that have no favoritism. The army officers will of course be promoted with largely increased salaries, which will amount to more than dozens of our best farmers and other business men will make combined. The manufacturers of all kinds who supply army and navy will prosper as a green twig in summer, but who pays the taxes or who feels mostly the heavy burden of taxation, and when we see that it is becoming more and more a burden to pay them, directly or indirectly, we all should consider before we are caught in the trap of the special interests any further.

Respectfully,
B. F. KEITH.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Even if Mr. Kitchin is wrong, he is probably not the only one who expressed an opinion before looking into it.—Durham Herald.

Congressman Gardner, big Republican of Massachusetts, J. J. Britt, the only Republican congressman from North Carolina; ex-Republican Presidents Taft and Roosevelt, and all of the Republican shipbuilders and armament and ammunition manufacturers, are advocates of a riproaring navy. And yet it is a crime against the Democratic party if Hon. Claude Kitchin does not join this fine body of jingoes—according to many of our contemporaries.—Maxton Scottish Chief.

Up to date 180 high schools have signified their intention of participating in the big Spring debates of the High School Debating Union of North Carolina. The query to be discussed is one of much importance and moment at this time, Resolved, That the United States should adopt the policy of greatly enlarging the navy. A bulletin of 70 pages containing arguments on both sides of the query is now being prepared and will be ready for distribution at an early date to all who desire it. The bulletin will give among other things, the names of 25 organizations and leagues which will furnish material on the query free of charge.—University News Letter.

It is our belief that if there is a citizen's military training camp established in North Carolina there are advantages which can be offered by Raleigh which will secure the location of the camp here. To secure this it will be necessary to show conclusively that Raleigh is the location better than others in North Carolina which will be offered, and in presenting the reasons for the selection of Raleigh there should be co-operation on the part of all the organizations of this city and its official representatives. The Chamber of Commerce set the ball to rolling in the action which it took some time ago, and the purpose of that organization is to press the matter. It is doing a good work in its endeavor to secure the location of the military camp here and it should be given the co-operation of all Raleigh, for all Raleigh will be helped if it succeeds in its efforts.—Raleigh News and Observer.

JUDGE GEO. ROUNTREE TO RETIRE FROM BENCH

Will Return to Practice of the Law in Wilmington.

Resignation Effective January 1st, 1916—Strong Legal Firms in Wilmington to Consolidate With Judge Rountree at Head

Judge George Rountree, of Wilmington, regarded all over the State as possibly the most able Superior Court judge on the bench, on Saturday, from Wilson, N. C., where he is holding a regular term of court, forwarded to Governor Locke Craig his resignation as judge of the Eighth Judicial District of North Carolina, effective on January 1st, 1916.

Judge Rountree will return to the practice of law in Wilmington and will head a new firm to be composed of a consolidation of the partnerships of Messrs. Davis & Davis and J. O. Carr, formerly Rountree & Carr, individual members of the firm being Mr. Junius Davis, Judge Rountree, James O. Carr, Esq., and Thomas W. Davis, Esq., all among the leading members of the bar at Wilmington and in the State. The exact style of the firm has not yet been determined, but members of the firm will have offices on the ninth floor of the Murchison Bank building, occupying the several offices in the rear of that floor and possibly the most desirable in that splendid office building. The new firm will be one of the largest in the State with one of the largest libraries.

The present firm of Davis & Davis is composed of Mr. Junius Davis and Mr. Thos. W. Davis and has been in existence for about 15 years, Mr. Junius Davis having before that time been successfully engaged in the practice of his profession practically ever since the war. The firm of Rountree & Carr was organized in 1899 and continued until July 1st, 1913, when Judge Rountree went on the bench, after which J. O. Carr, Esq., succeeded to the practice and has continued the same in his individual name since that time. The two firms which will be consolidated enjoy perhaps the largest practice of any firms in this section of the State and appear in practically all the heavy litigation in both the State and Federal courts in this section.

While no official announcement has come out from Raleigh in regard to the resignation, associates of Judge Rountree here on yesterday did not deny a confirmation that he had resigned nor that the new firm would be formed on January 1st. Judge Rountree has been holding a two weeks term of court at Wilson and did not come home for the week-end, but he forwarded his resignation to Governor Craig from there.

The announcement that Judge Rountree is to retire from the bench will come as a disappointment to many of his friends and admirers in his home city who have watched his career with much satisfaction since he was called to the high judicial station to which he has been an honor. It will be recalled that at the time of his appointment, it was hard for him to decide to accept the judgeship as he already enjoyed a very large practice in Wilmington and it was only after much persuasion that he finally agreed to accept. His judicial career has been such as to greatly enhance the popular estimation of him all over the State and the regret is that the bench is to lose him as a public servant. It will be a pleasure, however, for the people of Wilmington to again have him as a resident and the association which he has formed will be one altogether pleasant and successful for him in the further pursuit of a profession for which he is so eminently fitted.

As yet there has been no suggestion as to who will likely be Judge Rountree's successor but it is expected that Governor Craig will make some announcement in this particular in the very near future.

CORN SHOW WAS FINE SUCCESS

Drew Many Favorable Comments Over State—Wilmington Pleased—Splendid Behavior.

The Corn Show is over, but Wilmington is still aglee over the fine showing it made for her, both here and with the large number who visited from other sections. It has been favorably compared with many such institutions representing vastly larger territories and has won the approval of the most conservative.

The police said yesterday that their books show that the order was good while the big crowd was gathered and that everything passed off very quietly. Nothing definite has yet developed, but it is thought that a Fair Association will be formed before next year to assure this as an annual occasion in the city.

Among the many people who contributed importantly to the success of the show, who have as yet remained unnamed to the public, are Mr. Raymond Hunt, chairman of the tent committee, whose work in securing cover for the many exhibits, was done quietly, but deserves honorable mention. Mr. E. A. Metts, chairman of the space committee, deserves special mention among those who contributed greatly to the success of the fair. His skill and the time and thought he gave to getting the exhibits arranged so as to show off each, is only properly appreciated by those who were in close touch with the work. Miss Margaret Gibson, representative of Sorosis on the executive committee, was a tireless worker and one whose work was important to the enterprise.

After tonight, the scene of the show, will scarcely have a mark to show that it had been there. The two smaller tents, on the site of the new customs house were taken down yesterday, and all the live stock was taken away Saturday night.

The big tent was still up yesterday and many of the exhibits were still there, although the most of them had been packed for removal to be started early this morning. Policeman W. H. Kermon with the assistance of several plainclothesmen was in charge all day yesterday to see that nothing was stolen. The police force will watch the place until all exhibits have been carried away, which will likely be early tod...

DRAINAGE MEETING NEXT WEEK

Eighth Annual Convention at Belhaven Beginning Next Monday—Interesting Programme.

The eighth annual Drainage Convention which is to be held under the auspices of the North Carolina Drainage Association, at Belhaven, N. C., next week, will be of special interest in Eastern North Carolina, and the attendance promises to be large. On account of the present train schedules, which will bring the delegates to Belhaven on the evening of the 29th, it has been decided to hold an informal meeting on the night of the 29th.

There is given below a programme which it is expected will be carried out:

Monday Night, Nov. 29th—7:30 P. M.

Address of Welcome — Hon. W. B. Tooley, Mayor of Belhaven.

Response and Presidential Address—Mr. Lawrence Brett, President North Carolina Drainage Association.

Reports of secretary and treasurer.

Registration of delegates and informal reception.

Tuesday Morning, Nov. 30th—9:30 A. M.

Meeting called to order by president.

Invocation—Rev. Hays Parrish.

Appointment of committees.

Miscellaneous business.

North Carolina Drainage Law—Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt, State Geologist.

Drainage Bonds—Ten minute discussions by Moss & Moss, Bankers, Norfolk, Va.; F. H. Barclay, of Townsend, Scott & Son, Baltimore, Md.; John J. George, of Sidney Spitzer & Company, of Toledo, Ohio; and representatives of other bankers and bond dealers.

Drainage Contractors—Ten minute discussions by M. W. Thompson, of Thompson & Moseley, Greensboro, N. C.; C. W. Hodges, of the Southern Drainage and Construction Co., Kinston; W. C. Rath, manager of the Southern Building Co., of Goldsboro; E. E. Schooley, of A. V. Wills & Sons, of St. Louis, Mo.; J. A. Wilkinson, of Belhaven, N. C.

Development of Drained Lands—Clement S. Ucker, director of the Southern Settlement and Development Organization, of Baltimore, Md.

The Railroad's Interest in the Reclamation of Swamp Lands—Ten minute discussions by representatives of Norfolk & Southern Railroad, Atlantic Coast Line, Southern Railway, Wilmington, Brunswick & Southern, Washington & Vandemere.

Afternoon Session—2:30 P. M.

Address—Hon. John H. Small, Congressman from the First district.

Tile Drainage; Need of, and Beneficial Results—H. M. Lynde, of the U. S. Office of Public Roads and Rural Engineering; F. R. Baker, of the North Carolina Department of Agriculture.

Reports of those who have installed Tile drainage.

Agriculture and Drainage—C. P. Hudson, of the State Department of Agriculture.

Address—Dr. D. H. Hill, president of the North Carolina College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts.

The Lake Mattamuskeet Drainage District—D. N. Graves, of Boston.

Engineering Problems Connected with Drainage Projects—Five minute talks by Drainage engineers, contractors and commissioners.

Tuesday Night—7:30 P. M.

Oyster roast and smoker.

Wednesday, Dec. 1st.

Trip to Lake Mattamuskeet Drainage District—A business session will be held on boat or at Swan Quarter, at noon. Also, there will be given reports from representatives of drainage districts which have been completed, organized, or are in process of organization.

Reports of Committees—Committee on Nominations and Next Meeting Place; Committee on Resolutions.

Election of Officers.

One of the most attractive features of this programme is the trip to Lake Mattamuskeet, where the delegates will have a chance to see the work that is being done on the largest drainage district in the state. Sufficient work has been done here to enable the delegates to get a splendid idea of what drainage will accomplish, as part of the area which has already been reclaimed was under cultivation during present year.

ROGERS WORKING OUT

Wants to Wrestle Local Artist Tomorrow Night at Woolvin Hall.

"Yankee" Rogers, the wrestler who has a return match with Fritz Hansen, the local mat favorite, is making arrangements to work out with local wrestlers in a unique match at Woolvin Hall tomorrow night. He says that barring Fritz Hansen, he will put up a valuable steak that he will take any 10 men in the city, one at a time, and throw them within an hour, and promises to handle them gently and not use any violent hold like the toe or strangle hold, or hammerlock. Mr. Rogers says he wants to just give Wilmington a demonstration of clever and clean wrestling purely on a scientific basis. This exhibition will be free to all. Only about half of the ten men have been secured, but it is thought the whole number will be there Tuesday night.

The return match Thursday night promises to be an interesting affair. Rogers claims to be in better condition now than he was last Friday, and the hold with which Hansen threw him will be barred.

STEAMER A. P. HURT HERE

Will Be Put on Line From Wilmington to Fayetteville in a Few Weeks.

The steamer A. P. Hurt, that had been undergoing repairs at Elizabethtown for the past several weeks, was towed down to this city last night where its machinery will be overhauled by the Wilmington Iron Works, preparatory to its being put on the line between this city and Fayetteville to succeed the steamer City of Fayetteville, which was sunk about a year ago at a dock at the Champion Compress.

The steamer belongs to the Merchants and Farmers' Steamboat Company, and is much larger than other boats now running between Wilmington and Elizabethtown. It will be fitted with all modern conveniences for river boats of the present day, having a rather large passenger accommodation and considerable freight capacity. The hull is of steel and the superstructure of wood. She will be completed and ready for the run possibly within 20 or 30 days.

Small Fire on South Front.

The Fire Department was called out last night at 9:45 o'clock from Box No. 42, for a fire at South Front and Dawson streets, in the office of Mr. K. C. Knowles. The damage was only slight, the fire being started by an overturned lamp.

DEATH OF MR. H. T. BAUMAN

Citizen Highly Respected in Wilmington Dies After Long Illness—Funeral Tomorrow.

The news of the death of Mr. Henry Thomas Bauman was a severe shock to a host of friends in Wilmington last night. Mr. Bauman passed away last evening at 7 o'clock at the home of his sister, Mrs. Eduard Peschau, No. 310 North Fifth street, after long illness.

Mr. Bauman lacked only a few days of being 64 years old, having been born here November 29, 1851. He had been well known in Wilmington for many years. He spent much of the earlier part of his life in railroad work, but in later years until his illness he had been prominent in affairs in Wilmington. Mr. Bowman was for many years secretary of the Eastern Carolina Truck and Fruit Growers' Association, in which capacity he served his company well and to the satisfaction of all concerned.

He was a member of St. Mary's Pro-Cathedral, and at the time of his death was Past Grand Knight, of the Knights of Columbus. In both church and lodge and in every day life Mr. Bauman was a staunch upholder of what he thought to be good.

Mr. Bauman is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Eduard Peschau and Mrs. M. A. Hayden, of this city, and one brother, Mr. John C. Bauman, of Jacksonville, Fla., and a number of nephews and nieces.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow and burial will be made in Oakdale cemetery. Announcement of the hour, etc., will be made later.

As secretary and treasurer of the E. C. T. & F. G. Association he had a large part in the development of the great strawberry and trucking industry of the Wilmington section, acting not only in the capacity of secretary and treasurer, but also as traffic manager in the interest of the growers. He had a fine knowledge of traffic affairs and was for many years invaluable in the position which he held.

Mr. Bauman was genial and kindly in his disposition, a true friends and one whose friendship was valued. His passing will be generally deplored by a host of friends all over this section of the Carolinas and elsewhere.

DEATH OF MR. COLEMAN

Aged Southport Citizen Died at Home of Son-in-Law Here Yesterday

Many friends heard with regret yesterday of the death of Mr. David Coleman, which occurred at the home of his son-in-law, Mr. L. H. Peterson, No. 208 South Front street, yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock, after a long illness.

Mr. Coleman had spent most of his life in Southport. He was 59 years of age and had been connected with a grocery business in Southport until his health gave way. He was a member of the Baptist church there and is mourned by all who knew him.

Survived are his bereaved wife and three children. They are Mrs. L. H. Fullwood, of Southport; Mrs. L. H. Peterson, of this city; and Mr. D. R. Coleman, of New York city. There are also several grandchildren, all of whom have the tender sympathy of a host of friends.

The body will be taken to Southport this morning on the steamer Wilmington, where funeral and burial services will be held today.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS LATER

Bladen Street Church to Make Full Report at Annual Conference.

The election of officers and committees which was to have been held last night at Bladen Street Methodist church, was postponed until after the annual conference, by motion, and only one election was made at the meeting of the church conference last night. This was Mr. D. H. Hardison, who was made Lay Reader.

Quarterly conference will be held at Bladen Street church tomorrow and the outlook now is that the congregation will have a full report for the annual conference which will be held here the first week in December.

THE BASEBALL FRANCHISE

Virginia League Meeting Postponed to December 6th—Local Fans Continue Effort.

With the committees and solicitors for stock still actively at work and the goal almost within their reach, local baseball fans learned Saturday with interest that the meeting of the Virginia Baseball League in Norfolk for the purpose of disposing of the vacant franchise which Wilmington hopes to get, had been postponed from tonight to December 6th.

It was stated in a communication from league headquarters that the meeting had been disposed on account of the illness of one of the directors and the enforced absence of another, but on December 6th, it is certain that the meeting will be held and that all plans for the coming season will be settled upon in addition to the election of officers and other matters of importance.

From the encouragement the local promoters have received, it seems to be now a safe conclusion that Wilmington will be represented at the meeting in December and that she will ask for the franchise that is now open. U. D. C. SENDS VALUABLE BOX

More Than $65 Worth of Goods to Women's Home at Fayetteville—Officers Re-Elected.

Cape Fear Chapter, No. 3, United Daughters of the Confederacy, held its November meeting Saturday afternoon at the W. L. I. armory. Following the regular routine business, the annual election of officers was held, and among other reports, it was stated that a box, worth over $65, had been sent as a Thanksgiving present to the Women's Confederate Home at Fayetteville.

The result of the election was that all officers were again chosen for the ensuing term. However, Mrs. Robert Cantwell, first vice president; Miss Leonora Cantwell, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. M. C. Hammond, recording secretary, notified the Chapter that for reasons of their own, they were sorry that it was impossible for them to serve another year. Mrs. Frank L. Huggins, was elected to succeed Mrs. Cantwell and Mrs. Octave Wiggins was elected to succeed Miss Cantwell, but no one has yet been elected to succeed Mrs. Hammond.

The officers of the Chapter are now Mrs. James G. Kenan, president; Mrs. Frank L. Huggins, first vice president; Mrs. M. G. Saunders, second vice president; Mrs. Cuthbert Martin, third vice president; Mrs. Octave Wiggins, corresponding secretary; Mrs. J. F. Woolvin, treasurer; Mrs. W. M. Creasy, registrar; Mrs. Thomas F. Costner, custodian; Mrs. E. M. Gregg, historian; Mrs. John Hall, leader of children's chapter. A recording secretary will be elected in the near future.

Miss Minnie Brown had been appointed a committee of one to send a Thanksgiving box to the Women's Confederate Home at Fayetteville, as a gift from the Chapter. She reported having sent a box worth over $65, containing the following beside a number of miscellaneous articles: One barrel of flour, two bushels of meal, 50 pounds of lard, three hams, 50 pounds of sugar, 40 pounds of rice, peck of hominy, eight pounds of coffee, six pounds of tea, four packages of macaroni, seven packages of Quaker Oats, two packages of Gold-Dust, a box of toilet soap, six cakes of soap, a box of jelly, two bottles of catsup, ten and one-half dozen canned goods. This was contributed by chapter members and friends. It will be remembered that the Chapter had previously contributed $75 for furnishing a room in this home.

The wreath committee appointed for the month consists of Miss Lena Beery, Miss Hannah Bolles and Mrs. Harvey Little.

MANY SMALL ARRESTS

The Police Were Rather Busy Early Yesterday With Minor Offenders.

The police were pretty busy the early part of yesterday, taking in several offenders and locking them up, and recognizing others. Mr. W. H. Alexander, who lives in the country was taken into custody for violation of the traffic ordinance by turning on Front street in the middle of the block between Chestnut and Princess. It not being convenient for him to report for trial in the early part of the week, he was recognized for his appearance in the Recorder's court next Saturday.

George McKoy, colored, was arrested on two warrants. One for an alleged assault on Mr. C. M. Applebury and the other on charge of running against Mr. J. D. Pridgen with his bicycle and then assaulting him. McKoy will have a hearing this morning in Recorder's court. He is in jail in default of bond.

Tom Hall, colored, arrested on a charge of violating the driving ordinance several days ago and recognized for his appearance in the Recorder's court, which he failed to do, was arrested on a capias and put in the city prison to await trial. Several drunks were locked up yesterday.

Columbus Superior Court.

Judge F. A. Daniels arrived last night from his home at Goldsboro and will leave this morning for Whiteville where this morning he will open the regular term of Superior Court in that county. A number of Wilmington attorneys will attend the session of court at Whiteville this week.

REMARKABLE CASE of Mrs. HAM

Declares Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Saved Her Life and Sanity.

Shamrock, Mo.—"I feel it my duty to tell the public the condition of my health before using your medicine. I had falling, inflammation and congestion, female weakness, pains in both sides, backaches and bearing down pains, was short of memory, nervous, impatient, passed sleepless nights, and had neither strength nor energy. There was always a fear and dread in my mind, I had cold, nervous, weak spells, hot flashes over my body. I had a place in my right side that was so sore that I could hardly bear the weight of my clothes. I tried medicines and doctors, but they did me little good, and I never expected to get out again. I got Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier, and I certainly would have been in grave or in an asylum if your medicines had not saved me. But now I can work all day, sleep well at night, eat anything I want, have no hot flashes or weak, nervous spells. All pains, aches, fears and dreads are gone, my house, children and husband are no longer neglected, as I am almost entirely free of the bad symptoms I had before taking your remedies, and all is pleasure and happiness in my home."—Mrs. JOSIE HAM, R. F. D. 1, Box 22, Shamrock, Missouri.

If you want special advice write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (confidential) Lynn, Mass.

REASON WITH YOURSELF

In these days of fierce competition, the ability to save is as necessary as the ability to read, write and cipher. If you spend all you earn, somebody else deposits your savings. We want you to deposit your money YOURSELF—in this bank.

Money deposited with us is available at any time—payable on demand, and at the same time it is working for you night and day—earning four per cent, compound interest. We divide our profits with you by paying a safe rate of interest on all money deposited with us.

Tabor, Nov. 21.—Thursday evening Mrs. J. L. Lewis gave a 6 o'clock dinner, the occasion celebrating Mr. Lewis' 38th birthday. The dinner coming as a surprise to Mr. Lewis from his wife, the guests arrived in a body, and were immediately conducted to the dining room, which was tastefully decorated, the color scheme being yellow and white, the gentlemen finding their places by beautiful souvenir cards inscribed with a rhyme suiting his occupation. The flowers of the occasion were chrysanthemums and ferns. An elaborate dinner was served consisting of many courses. Responding to a toast each guest wished for Mr. and Mrs. Lewis many happy prosperous birthdays to come. Dinner being served still another surprise in the form of a birthday cake was placed in the center of the table. The cake was made by Mrs. Lewis and decorated with 38 candles, each guest snuffing a candle as he sliced his cake. The party left at 10 o'clock and unanimously voted Mrs. Lewis a bountiful hostess. Those present were: Wessrs. H. J. Jones, D. C. Fussell, W. J. Justus, D. F. McGougan, M. C. Harper, R. R. Koons, B. B. Anderson, Drs. Cox and Humphrey.

LARGE WHITEVILLE AUDIENCE DELIGHTED BY AMATEUR PLAY

Whiteville, N. C., Nov. 21. — Under the auspices of the Ladies' Missionary Society of the Methodist church, "Young Mrs. Winthrop," a four-act play, was produced at the Whiteville High School auditorium last night. The house was packed for the occasion with a delighted audience, and the local amateurs taking part did full justice to the play. The lueading roles of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Winthrop were played effectively by Mr. Geo. F. Mountford and Miss Bland Baldwin. The work of Miss Grace Lumsden, in the role of "Mrs. Chetwyn," a woman of society, is deserving of special mention. Her lively chatter and gossip was a pleasing contrast to the heavy situations introduced by the domestic troubles of Mr. and Mrs. Winthrop, and she played the part to perfection.

The commodious stage was fittingly decorated for the occasion, and presented a magnificent setting for the rich gowns worn by the ladies of the cast.

Mr. Claude Oliver, as "Buxton Scott," the peace-making old lawyer, was all that could be desired, and the difficult part of "Mrs. Ruth Winthrop" was handled by Miss Kate Hines in a manner that showed wonderful histrionic ability. A pretty love story was woven into the play by Miss Lula Thorne and Mr. Malcolm Lumsden as "Edith" and "Herbert." Their work called for clever acting and was duly applauded.

The names of the cast follow:

"Mrs. Ruth Winthrop," Miss Kate Hines; "Mr. Douglas Winthrop," (her son), Geo. F. Mountford; "Constance Winthrop" (his wife), Miss Bland Baldwin; "Buxton Scott" (a lawyer), Claude Oliver; "Mrs. Dick Chetwyn" (a lady of society), Miss Grace Lumsden; "Edith" (sister of Constance), Miss Lula Thorne; "Herbert," Malcolm Lumsden; "Dr. Mellbanke," J. A. Cousar; "John" (a footman), Frank Hester.

The management of the production was handled by Mr. James Schulken, to whom great credit is due.

DR. ANNA HOWARD SHAW NOT CANDIDATE FOR RE-ELECTION

Desires to Be Free to Campaign Work In Behalf of Woman Suffrage.

New York, Nov. 21.—Dr. Anna Shaw, who has been president of the National Woman Suffrage Association for 11 years, will not be a candidate to succeed herself at the coming annual convention to be held in Washington on December 14 to 19, it was announced here tonight.

Dr. Shaw, who has been an active worker for the cause of equal suffrage for thirty years, made the announcement in an open letter sent to the members of the national board and to the president of the state associations affiliated with the national association. Dr. Shaw's decision to retire fro mthe presidency was a surprise to most of the members of the board. It comes at the end of the most strenuous campaign in which she had ever engaged. She made a total of 198 speeches before the recent election in the four states in which suffrage campaigns were conducted.

"During the past year," read Dr. Shaw's letter, "I have been increasingly conscious of the growing response to the spoken word on behalf of the cause of ours. Because of the unparalleled large following drawn under our standard everywhere I have become convinced that my highest service to the suffrage movement can best be given if I am relieved of the exacting duties of the presidency so that I may be free to engage in campaign work."

OPPOSE SHORTENING HOURS FOR SALE OF LIQUOR

London Trade Unionist Pass Resolution at Conference.

London, Nov. 21.—Five hundred delegates to a conference of London Trade Unionists today passed a resolution pledging themselves to resist to the utmost "by open revolt if necessary" the regulations shortening the hours during which liquor may be sold, which come into effect November 29.

The delegates represented the printing trades, postmen, railway and vehicle workers, moulders, laborers and the working men's clubs. The new regulations were described as an insinuation that workingmen are addicted to excessive drinking which arose from a few isolated cases. The resolutions said the regulations were a direct incitement to workers to lay down their tools."

INVITES SOUTHERN GOVERNORS AND MAYORS TO CHARLESTON

To Attend Conference of Labor Deliberation December 16-27.

Washington, Nov. 22.—Governors of sixteen Southern states and mayors of the principal Southern cities have been asked by Secretary Wilson of the Department of Labor to send delegates to the conference of labor deliberation to be held at Charleston, S. C., December 16 and 17, in connection with the meeting of the Southern Commercial Congress. The object of the conference, the secretary said today, would be to bring the co-operative association, the Federal, State municipal and private agencies dealing with labor problems and to present the department's plans for this work to the business men of the South.

SHERIFF'S SON "ASSAULTED"

Becomes Mixed Up in an Affray With 7-Year-Old Picaninny.

(Special Star Correspondence).

Kinston,, N. C., Nov. 21.—Sheriff A. W. Taylor was personally interested in an assault which attracted his notice a short distance from his North Queen street home yesterday. Harold Jackson, colored, and Heber Taylor, the sheriff's son, both exactly seven years old, were mixing it. The affray changed to assault when the pickaninny secured a brickbat and hurled it with excellent air at little Taylor's head. The latter took the count. The sheriff captured the offender and located his parents. He left him in their custody after being assured that the law would have little chance beside what Harold Jackson was scheduled to get at home.

SPEAKS BEFORE COSMOS CLUB

Dr. Sykes Discusses Influence of Land Owners on the War

(Special Star Correspondence).

Wake Forest, N. C., Nov. 21. — Dr. E. W. Sykes, dean of Wake Forest College, spoke before the Cosmos Club, which is composed of the members of the faculty of the college, last night at the monthly meeting. Dr. Sykes discussed the influence of landed proprietors upon the present European war. He took England, Germany and Russia as examples of countries where a few large families control the ownership of the land. As an opposite example he cited France where 90 per cent. of the people own thir respective farms. He also spoke of the economic forces at work in the United States, which tend to produce international complications.

DALLAS PUTS IN BID

Raises $100,000 to Secure Democratic National Convention.

Washington, Nov. 21.—Cato Sells, Commissioner of Indian Affairs and member of the Democratic National committee from Texas, today received word from Mayor Lindsley, of Dallas, that $100,000 had been raised to secure for Dallas the 1915 Democratic National convention. The message said a special train would bring Texas here to urge Dallas' claim before the Democratic National committee at its meeting December 7.

HILLSTROM'S FUNERAL HELD

Six Swedish Girls, One Said to Be His Sweetheart, Pallbearers.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Nov. 21.—Six Swedish girls, including one said to have been Joseph Hillstrom's sweetheart, acted as pallbearers at his funeral services here today. Each girl wore a red sach, which was attached to the casket when the body was taken to the depot and sent to W. D. Haywood, at Chicago. There was no prayer and no religious ceremony.

Hillstrom's execution was strongly condemned by members of the Industrial Workers of the World, who spoke. One speaker declared the authorities of the state "would soon have cause to remember the day they took Hillstrom out and shot him." I. W. W. songs, some of them by Hillstrom, were sung as the procession passed through the streets.

RAIDED GAMBLING DEN

Caught Twelve Negroes Red Handed at Sixth and Red Cross Last Night

Sergeants E. J. Grimsley and H. W. Howell, Officers A. E. Munn, M. C. Gray, and others raided a gambling den on the second floor of a building at the corner of Sirth and Red Cross streets about 9 o'clock last night, and as a result twelve negroes are locked up in the station house to await trial before the Recorder today. The negroes are John Lucas, Walter Guest, Willie Sterling, Jas. Chasten, Howe Godbold, Leonard Taylor, Pet Wells, Frank Moore, Joe Wells, Robert Spicers, Daniel Wright and Ernest Lyon.

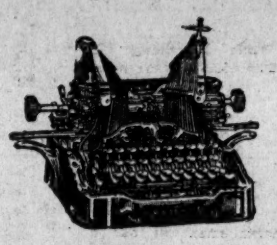
A New Model Typewriter

The No. 9 OLIVER

The Standard Visible Writer



BUY IT NOW!

Yes, the crowning typewriter triumph is here!

It is just out—and comes years before experts expected it. For makers have striven a lifetime to attain this ideal machine. And Oliver has won again, as we scored when we gave the world its first visible writing.

There is truly no other typewriter on earth like this new Oliver "9." Think of touch so light that the tread of a kitten will run the keys!

CAUTION!

The new-day advances that come alone on this machine are all controlled by Oliver. Even our own previous models — famous in their day — never had the Optional Duplex Shift.

It puts the whole control of 84 letters and characters in the little fingers of the right and left hands. And it lets you write them all with only 28 keys, the least to operate of any standard typewriter made.

Thus writers of all other machines can immediately run the Oliver Number "9" with more speed and greater ease.

WARNING!

This brilliant new Oliver comes at the old-time price. It costs no more than lesser makes — now out-of-date when compared with this discovery.

For while the Oliver's splendid new features are costly—we have equalized the added expense to us by simplifying construction.

Resolve right now to see this great achievement before you spend a dollar for any typewriter. If you are using some other make you will want to see how much more this one does.

If you are using an Oliver, it naturally follows that you want the finest model.

17 CENTS A DAY! Remember this brand-new Oliver "9" is the greatest value ever given in a typewriter. It has all our previous special inventions—visible writing, automatic spacer, 6½ ounce touch—plus the Optional Duplex Shift, Selective Color Attachment and all these other new-day features.

Yet we have decided to sell it to everyone on our famous payment plan—17 cents a day! Now every user can easily afford to have the world's crack visible writer, with the famous PRINTYPE, that writes like print, included FREE if desired.

TODAY—Write For Full Details and be among the first to know about this marvel of writing machines. See why typists employers, and individuals everywhere are flocking to the Oliver. Just mail a postal at once. No obligation. It's a pleasure for us to tell you about it.

BISHOP DARST ON EFFICIENCY

Proper Religious Spirit of First Importance—Proved by Living Examples in History.

"God and one man is a majority in any undertaking," said Bishop T. C. Darst of the Diocese of Eastern Carolina yesterday morning at the Church of the Good Shepherd, "and their accomplishments are the wonders of the world."

Bishop Darst backed this statement by telling of actual instances in human life where this had been proved. The efficiency of Moses in taking the children of Israel from Egypt and leading them through the wilderness into the land of Canaan is to be admired from every side. His skill in thwarting the purpose of Egyptians, the then strongest worldly power in existence, the meeting of situations in the desolate wilderness and finally the reaching of the Promised Land was a feat greater than the whole human race at that time was capable of, and Moses was chosen for this work after having spent the 40 years of the better part of his life as a shepherd and not having been trained as a human leader, but still he was a mighty force in the latter years of his life.

Similar lessons were drawn from the lives of Gideon, David and the twelve disciples of Christ, whose lives were a strong part of the source of the power that evangelized the greater part of the enlightened world.

The text was from the story of the loaves and fishes, used as an allegory of the actual force that does things and the motive that develops spiritual power. The loaves and fishes were increased to meet an occasion with which man was incapable of coping. There was the multitude and no provisions, and had the owners of the loaves and fishes felt selfish and afraid to show them to the multitude lest they have none, they would have had scarcely enough for themselves. But like the love that prompted them to divide with their friends, the provisions grew with the division, and the scraps that were gathered after the multitude had eaten, was more than the original amount.

Bishop Darst says man's powers are just so increased when he tries to give the wielding of them to God.

This is the second visitation Bishop Darst has made the Church of the Good Shepherd and the Church of the Ascension this year, these being made specially for confirmations. He confirmed 22 yesterday morning at the Church of the Good Shepherd and 14 last evening at the Church of the Ascension. This makes a total of 70 confirmations in these two churches this year, which is considered a splendid showing.

—Mr. Herbert W. Hewlett left last night for Salisbury to attend the annual convention of the North Carolina Sunday School Association.

For the Family Medicine Chest

Green Bay, Wis., Mrs. Wm. F. Bubolz says: "I always use Foley's Honey and Tar for our children as it quickly breaks up their colds with no bad after effects, and they like to take it."

In this season of coughs, colds and croup, every family medicine chest should be supplied with a good cough medicine that can be relied upon when needed.

Such a family cough syrup is Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. This standard medicine has been on the market for years and in many sections was found in every home in the days when doctors were not so handy and when money was scarcer.

Foley's Honey and Tar Compound is an excellent medicine for coughs, colds, raw or inflamed throat, hoarseness tightness and soreness of the chest, croup and whooping cough. It is an absolutely safe remedy, containing only healing ingredients, and free from any harmful drugs.

A WILMINGTON SHIPMENT

Britain Meddling With Large Order of Fertilizers From Scotland

The following from the Washington correspondence of Saturday's News and Observer will be read with interest locally:

"Washington, Nov. 19.—Great Britain is now meddling with shipments of material for the manufacture of fertilizer from Scotland to North Carolina.

"Fifteen thousand tons of sulphate of ammonia was purchased by a Wilmington concern in Glasgow. The size of the order is the only excuse made by the British government for refusing a permit for its shipment. John Bull just assumed that so much sulphate of ammonia would not be used there for fertilizer but be shipped back to Germany for some other enemy.

"The State Department has been appealed to for relief, and it is believed that the British government will give the permit when assured that the shipment is to be used at Wilmington."

Condition of Mr. Rose.

Friends of Mr. Richard S. Rose, who was accidentally shot some weeks ago at his home at Winoca Terrace, this city, will be glad to klow that his condition was somewhat improved yesterday. His mother, Mrs. C. A. Rose, of China Green, his sister, Mrs. Annie Lisk, of Charlotte, and his brother, Mr. Julius Rose, of Charlotte, arrived Friday. He is a nephew of Mrs. A. J. Crowell, of Charlotte, and a son of the late Rev. C. A. Rose, who was formerly a pastor of a Lutheran church near Salisbury.

Return From Charlotte.

Yesterday, Charlotte Observer says: "Miss Maggie Haughton will leave tomorrow for her home in Wilmington accompanied by her sister, Mrs. W. L. London, of Pittsboro. They were called to Charlotte by the death of their brother, Capt. Thomas H. Haughton. Another sister, Mrs. T. C. James, of Wilmington, was unable to attend. General London, who accompanied Mrs. London to the city, will return home tomorrow. While here they were guests of their son, Mr. H. A. London, Jr., and Mrs. London."

New York, Nov. 21 — The American steamship Zealandia was within three miles of land, when searched by the British cruiser Iris og Progreso, Merico, on Noveber 5, according to Fred J. Ensen, her chief engineer, who was a passenger aboard the steamer Morro Castle which arrived today from Havanna and Mexican ports. The incident resulted in a protest by the captain to the State Department.

Yesterday's Charlotte Observer: "Mrs. T. O. Loveless, of Wilmington, is the guest of Mrs. M. M. Schiltz, at her home on East Boulevard, Dilworth, Mrs. Schultz returned home Friday night from Charleston, S. C., where she joined Mr. Schultz and spent a week. Mr. Schiltz will arrive home for Thanksgiving."

WEAK, AILING CHILDREN

Made Well and Strong by Simple Remedy.

Here is another letter that has just come to our attention, showing the power of Vinol to build up health and strength for weak, puny, ailing children.

W. A. Smith, of Shanesville, Ohio, says:—"My little child was puny, weak and ailing, could not rest at night and would not eat. I learned about Vinol and tried it, and within a week noticed an improvement. The child's appetite improved, it slept well, strength and health were soon built up. We think Vinol is excellent for weak, puny children."

Vinol is a delicious cod liver and iron tonic without oil, containing beef peptone, which creates an appetite, tones up the digestive organs, enriches the blood and creates strength; children love to take it.

We ask all parents of weak, sickly, delicate children in this vicinity to try Vinol with the understanding that we will return your money if it fails to benefit your little ones. Robert B. Bellamy, Druggist, Wilmington, N. C.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

CLEWS' FINANCIAL REVIEW

Outlook, While Promising, Contains Many Difficult Problems Brought On by the War Situation.

New York, Nov. 21.—Our financial outlook is undoubtedly promising, but contains many difficult and unprecedented problems, practically all of which are an outgrowth of war. The violent derangement of our foreign trade, the sudden and overwhelming demands for munitions, the undreamed of applications for American funds and the consequent secondary disturbances affecting shipping, railroads, factories, labor, commodities, exchange, money, securities, etc., are too familiar to require mention. No line of business has entirely escaped the effect of the European cataclysm. Some of these problems have already been successfully faced. Others are still in prospect and will require cool and careful action. Although our financial and industrial resources have already been mobilized upon a war basis, there still remain two great contingencies yet to be faced; either an early peace, or prolongation of the war, the former may be within the probabilities. A severely disastrous and costly winter may be influential in that direction.

Should the war continue indefinitely, it will have a twofold effect. At first it would mean a prolonged demand upon the United States for war materials and food products, such has been experienced for the past six months. Temporarily we should gain by such a result, but eventually we should lose by a long war and it would be dangerous self-deception to expect that the United States could permanently profit by a struggle ended only by exhaustion. Although this country will undoubtedly feel the harmful effects of the war less than any other and will actually benefit in some respects we cannot hope to avert the reflex action of destruction of millions of men and billions of property, the present cost of the war being at the rate of $20,000,000 a year. When the war is over we may secure some temporary advantage by selling machinery, constructive materials, etc., to fill the gap until the devastated regions are able to supply themselves, but subsequently our exports must be affected adversely by an inevitably diminished buying power of all the belligerents. As it is hardly likely there a extensive dumping as the simple reason that Europe have little surplus for export, so some time after the war the belligerent countries will be largely drawn into reconstruction work, while the wastage of capital must restrain foreign enterprise for years to come. Following the war a fierce struggle for recovery of the world's markets must be expected between Germany and Great Britain. That contingency, however, is some distance away, and during the interval the United States has a splendid opportunity for securing a foothold in foreign markets, which it is not overlooking and which if properly developed will be an important outlet for our rapidly expanding industrial energies.

Evidently, therefore, a prolonged war will have both its gains and its losses for the United States. Should the war come to an earlier and than expected, especially in view of rumored peace movements, the results would be vastly better or us than its continuance. We might lose some profitable war contracts, but on the other hand we should gain infinitely more by the stoppage of waste and the restoration of [illegible] before the [illegible] international exhaustion sets in to speak of a higher motive for peace, which is to stop the awful suffering that is drenching Europe in blood. With the coming of peace a new set of problems will have to be met. Our financial demobilization would be in order, and many industries which have suffered by the struggle would be permitted to return to their normal relations, a vastly more encouraging outlook than the inflationary profits from war orders, which thoroughly demoralize capital and labor alike.

Home conditions show further improvement. Railroad traffic is steadily expanding, the number of idle cars has dwindled to a minimum and in some cases there is actual famine, due to the congestion of traffic. The latter, however, is partly owing to the scarcity of ocean tonnage, the war having withdrawn or destroyed about one-quarter, or 10,000,000 tons, of the world's shipping. Trade in the West shows considerable expansion, particularly in the wholesale dry goods establishments; new building exhibits a decided revival, and the steel trade continues upon its unexampled boom. Our exports also continue on a large, though somewhat diminished scale. The foreign exchange situation has been greatly improved, due to the placing of extensive foreign credits and the operation of the $500,000,000 Angle French loan which served to offset the pressure of commercial bills upon the market. This country is undoubtedly still a creditor nation in the large sense of the term, but a tremendous change has taken place in this respect. Some months ago it was estimated that the amount of foreign capital invested in this country was about $5,000,000,000. Since the war began between $200,000,000 and $300,000,000 of securities have been returned; we have taken the Anglo-French loan of $500,000,000; made very considerable loans to France, Russia, Italy, Argentina, Canada and other countries, besides establishing big credits to England, Russia, Italy, etc., so that in one form or another, we have advanced Europe considerably over $1,000,000,000 since the beginning of the war. This seems like a big sum, but when thinking of war it appears to be necessary to talk in billions instead of millions as formerly. Large as the sums advanced may be our lending abilities have by no means reached their limit, and our foreign obligations have been materially diminished.

There has been further hesitancy in the upward movement, chiefly owing to continue liquidation. The recent phenomenal rise was naturally followed by extensive profit taking among early buyers. Many of these realizations were made at higher levels than exist today, and new buyers were readily in evidence; so the general market still wears a healthy aspect, the technical position having been considerably improved by the reduction of a somewhat excessive long interest. Attention has been more or less directed from the war stocks to railroads and industrials which naturally move more slowly and less spectacularly than the highly sensitized war group. The investment demand continues active; having absorbed large sums of high grade bonds which are showing a considerable hardening in values. In two weeks Congress will open and public attention will probably be concentrated upon the solution ow such problems as preparedness, public revenue, shipping tariff, etc. Mony of the old issues yhich were of a depressing nature have been completely overshadowed by the war. The nation is thinking more deeply than at anw time since the Civil War. Public ojinion is less hostile to capital, a fact which removes a depressing influence of long standing. The railroads, it should also be remembered, are carrying a big traffic at better rates than formerly, the rsults for October and November promising to be exceptionally satisfactory.

HENRY CLEWS.

STOCKS WERE LESS ACTIVE

Losses in Quoted Values Also Feature of Weak—Heavy Declines in War Shares—Other Weakness

New York, Nov. 21.—Losses in quoted value and a pronounced diminution of activity were the main features of the week's stock market which was ruled largely by the operation of the speculative element. Further abstention of public interest or investment demand was reflected in the heaviness of certain issues, especially that group of specialties which made greatest gains during the midsummer. Some of the war shares are now 25 to 50 points under their best, while Bethlehem Steel at its minimum of 440 showed a decline of 160 from its maximum of recent weeks.

It is common belief that many weak accounts in stocks of a volatile character have been closed out and to that degree the technical position of these issues has been strengthened. Nevertheless sentiment shares of this description denotes greater weariness for which the conservative attitude of financial institutions is primarily responsible.

Metal shares were the strongest features, with several new records a natural outcome of the higher prices for refined copper together with the enormous increase of domestic demand.

Petroleum stocks also figured to a considerable extend at marked gains, the result of all round advices in prices of the raw and refined products as well as the further stablization of conditions in Mexico. Texas Company was foremost in this class, its rise to 203 representing a grain of 34 points for the week.

Conditions in the steel trade may be dismissed with the significant statement that every mill of importance is producing finished products to the limit of capacity. Possibility of an embargo on steel and iron exports in order that home requirements may not suffer, opens the way to interest developments.

Railroads in all sections are carrying almost the largest tonnage in their history and the problem of freight handling will become more acute when the crop movements reaches its flood. October statements of earnings are expected to exceed all record of recent years.

LITTLE CHANGE IN COTTON

Foreign Agents Active in Buying Liberally of Spots and Contracts—Price Changes Insignificant.

New York, Nov. 21.—Henry Clews & Company in reviewing the cotton situation for the past week says the market has been largely a traders affair with little or no significance in the price changes. It is to be noted, however, that the buying, especially of the deferred options, increased whenver the markt sold off. Although a great part of these purchasers emanated from local interests, there is no doubt that foreign agents were active in our markets, buying liberally of spots and contracts. Russian and Swedish interests were the chief option buyers, while German interests absorbed spots whenever offerings were made at any concession from ruling prices. This latter buying is highly significant, for, even though it is impossible to make shipments to German ports purchases for that account are taking just so much cotton off the market, and indicate pretty clearly a strong belief that cotton around current prices is cheap nitwithstanding the fact that from a manufacturing standpoint no use can be made of such specific holdings for some time to come. According to official reports October consumption by domestic mills was over 500,000 bales, and this increasing absorption by American mill interests would seem to foreshadow a total domestic demand for the season to close to 7,000,000 bales. It will be seen, therefore, that from a domestic as wel as a forign standpoint the factor of consumption is beginning to loom up as a constructive price influence, which, so far as can now be ascertained, will not be over-balanced by the season's supply. There are still differences of opinion regarding the size of the crop and for that reason the forthcoming census report to be issued Monday is looked forward to with considerable interest. According to the National Ginners' Association the amount of cotton ginned prior to November 14th, in round numbers, is placed at 8,800,000 bales. This would mean a little over 5,000,000 bales ginned for the last period. Assuming that the government will consideration the average ginning perfirm these figures, and taking into concentage for the last six years, the crop would figure about 11,000,000 bales, exclusive of linters. But if a deduction is made on the basis of the average ginning percentage of 55 per cent. for the three short crop years, 1909, 1910 and 1912, it will be seen that a production nearer 10,500,000 bales is indicated. This phase of the situation, however, is more or less immaterial. It is generally believed that every crop factor has been given due consideration and discounted and that the future ices now depend almost entirely upon the question of distribution. From present indications world's consumption should readily take care of this season's production and at the same time make a big inroad upon last year's carry-over.

NEW ORLEANS WEEKLY COTTON

Prices at Close of Market But Little Lower Than Previous Week

New Orleans, Nov. 21.—The cotton market this week closed within a few points of last week's close, the net change being a loss of 6 to 9 points. Prices were depressed by liquidation of longs, but a steady tone was acquired through extensive buying ascribed to foreign interests.

Frosts over the belt generally made little impression. While they were accepted a sending the growing season, they did not stimulate buying. Late in the week, the market showed a disposition to recover on bullish forecasts of the census bureau's ginning report to be issued this week. The trade appears to be looking for a report around 8,800,000 bales.

Ginning reports are expected to influence prices early in the week, and after that the trade is expected to study closely the interior spot situation. The deadlock between buyers and sellers in the spot department still continues and anything which will get the market out of its rut is expected to be quickly reflected in the contract market.

In some quarters it is believed trading will be light in the near future because of the nearness of the crop estimate by the Department of Agriculture. This estimate will be made on December 10 and it is believed that between now and that date, much evening up will take place.

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take a Glass of Salts Before Breakfast If Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers You.

The American men and women must guard constantly against Kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three during the night; if you suffer sick headache or dizzy, nervous, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, for a few days and your kidneys will be fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

"GREWSOME" MYSTERY SOLVED

Sheet With Blood and Flesh of a "Human" Found in Bushes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., Nov. 21.—A "grewsome" mystery of a few days ago at Chocowinity, the Norfolk Southern junction station about 65 miles east of here, has been solved. Rural residents of the neighborhood discovered a sheet covered with blood and particles of flesh, "positively" identified as belonging to a human. Various theories were advanced, and the one accepted by the authorities was that an infant had been left at the spot and prayed upon by wild animals. S. L. Lupton could not help laughing, he says, when he read newspaper reports several days after the find. "I had been killing beeves and had taken them to market wrapped in a sheet," says Lupton. "Coming home, I noticed the sheet under the wagon seat, and not have any further use for it, I threw it into the bushes." It is said the officials had been quietly investigating the affair. Lupton's account caused relief for the former.

SUPREME COURT WILL SIT IN NOVEL CASES

Fifteenth and Sixteenth District Appeals Tuesday.

Two Murder Cases, One Each From Rowan and Montgomery Counties, Will Come Up for Hearing —Other Cases.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 21.—State vs. Cooper, from Rowan county, in which the defendant is under sentence of death for first degree murder, will be the first called in the Supreme Court Tuesday morning when the appeals from the Fifteenth and Sixteenth districts will be taken up for hearings. Cooper killed Lucinda Price, with whom he had been living clandestinely at Salisbury when he had a wife living at Charlotte. The killing was on Sunday, March 28, of this year.

Quite a remarkable case is that of Malcolm Smith vs. State in which the plaintiff seeks to escape trial on the charge of instigating the murder of Milton Bunnell, in Montgomery county on the plea of his life having been previously in jeopardy on the same charge. The original indictment of Malcolm Smith and his son, Charles Smith were in 1907 when Charles Smith was sentenced to 30 years in the penitentiary, and, without the case going to a jury at all, Malcolm was discharged with an entry of nol pros with leave. Last January he was rearrested under the original 1917 indictment. He entered the plea that former jeopardy was made in ample time at the trial and overruled, the trial proceeding with notation of exception, to conviction and sentence to 18 years in the penitentiary.

State vs. Faggart, from Cabarrus county, is an appeal from one penny fine and costs in a case for trespass in which Faggart had rented a farm, sown wheat and then left the farm on account of dissatisfaction with buildings, the landlord forbidding him to enter the lands again. He went back and harvested and removed the wheat he had sown.

Another State case is State vs. Cline, from Burke county, in which the defendant is under sentence of two years for seduction under promise of marriage, the sentence being to work on the Buncombe county roads. The appeal is on the sufficiency of the evidence, exclusion of testimony as to the character of the prosecutrix and of the statement of a physician.

There are 17 civil appeals. The counties constituting the two districts are Davie, Iredell, Randolph, Rowan, Cabarrus, Montgomery, Polk, Cleveland, Lincoln, Burke and Caldwell.

WASHINGTON ADVICES CAUSES KEEN INTEREST IN JAPAN

China Has Reached No Formal Agreement With Allied Powers.

Tokio, Nov. 21.—Keen interest has been aroused in Japan by Washington advices that representations have been made in China to induce her to join the Entente Allies. The foreign office declines to discuss the matter and in the absence of precise information various explanations are being advanced as to the motives of the interested nations. Persons in close touch with foreign affairs assert that no formal agreement has been entered into by China.

The explanation generally offered here is that the Allies are endeavoring to devise a plan to put an end to certain German activities in the Orient. It was learned that strong representations have been made at Peking in regard to the various matters touching the interests of the Allies.

One of these is an anti-Russian movement in Manchuria, said to be fostered by Germans. Particular attention is paid to various reports concerning the forwarding of arms to India and Afghanistan. It also is reported there have been secret movements from Asiatic countries of war materials destined for Germany by way of the Americas.

AMERICAN EMBASSY REQUESTS RELEASE OF TWO AMERICANS

Taken From Norwegian-American Liner and Detained in England.

London, Nov. 21.—The American embassy has requested the British government to release Emil Miehlke and Herman Krauss, of Chicago, naturalized Americans of German birth who were taken from the Norwegian-American liner Kristianiafjord when it was detained recently at Kirkwall.

The men are confined in Edinburgh. Their pass ports are correct, but the British authorities are making a practice of detaining naturalized citizens who are unable to produce their naturalized papers. When word was received from Washington that Mr. Miehlke and Mr. Krauss were entitled unquestionably to their passports, immediate representations were made for their release.

It is understood here that Washington does not admit the British authorities have any right to go behind American passports for further proof of American citizenship and will take the stand that there must be no discrimination between native-born and naturalized citizens.

London, Nov. 22. — All the London papers make a feature of an interview given by M. Venizelos, the former Greek premier, in Athens, November 8, in which he said; "Two things seem quite clear to me: First, that Germany is bound to lose, in the long run; second, that the battle ground in the Balkans offers favorable conditions to the Allies."

and Premier Skouloudis brought away the impression that the questions now in suspense have lost much of their acute character. "The statements made by the Embros are not confirmed from any official source.

CONGRATULATES GOVERNMENT

Upon Success of the Diplomacy of the Allies in Persia

London, Nov. 22. — Congratulating the government on the success of the diplomacy of the Allies in Persia, the Morning Post in an editorial expresses satisfaction at "this escape from what might have proved a dangerous situation," and adds, "our diplomatic successes lately have not been so conspicuous but that we take some stock in this success."

The Post goes on to suggest that through the arguments used at Teheran by the British and Russian representatives can only be guessed at "it is not improbable that it was pointed out that there is an ex-Shah residing in Russia as a guest, who was extremely anxious to resume sovereignty."

By retaining the good will of the Shah of Persia, the Post considers the Allies had a narrow escape, since its defection toward the Teutonic powers "would have meant complete anarchy in Persia, which would probably have led to an upheaval in Afghanstan and possible trouble in India.

SITUATION IN PERSIA

Published Interview Say People's Sentiments Are With Germany.

Berlin, (via London), Nov. 21.—The Vossische Zeitung today prints an interview with M. Kulikson, the new Persian minister to Germany, in which the minister said:

"While Persia is neutral the Islamic sentiments and natural opposition to foreign oppression incline the people's sympathies to Germany. The Russians be before Teheran before the British, but it is doubtful whether they will enter, as the British would not want to see them in the Persian capital.

"The present course of the Russians in north Persia is due to the fact that they are seeking to compensate themselves for their losses in Europe. Persia's relations with Turkey are friendly. A strong feeling against the Russians exists in north Persia and against the British in south Persia since these nations assum ethe right to exercise a guardianship over the Persian government and people. But the Russians and British are Persia's neighbors and are very strong, while Germany, unfortunately, is far away.

BRITISH REACH MONASTIR

Are Being Reinforced in Serbian City, Say Reports.

Geneva, (via Paris), Nov. 21.—Dispatches from Bucharest say British forces have arrived at the Serbian city of Monastir, and are being reinforced. A telegram from Constantinople by way of Bucharest says the first contingent of German troops has reached that city and that Field Marshal Von Mackensen is expected there next week.

SERBS SLOWLY RETREAT

Berlin View of the Balkan Situation Told by News Agency

Berlin, via Wireless to Sayville, Nov. 21. — Discussing the Balkan situation, the Overseas News Agency says:

"The defeated Serbian army drags slowly along over snow-covered mountain trails accompanied by a large number of women, children and aged persons. The Serbians already have crossed the Montenegrin frontier, but inasmuch as Montenegro already is suffering from lack of food it is extremely difficult to care for the new comers. Frequently Montenegrin patriots approach the Austrian vanguard sentries and beg for bread.

"On account of these conditions increasing numbers of Serbians are returning as deserters into Old Serbia, which is now completely in the hands of the Austro-German forces. Special report from the front say that the number of Serbian prisoners taken last week was 26,000 and that the Serbians last more than 500 cannon.

"Meanwhile Austrian and German troops are marching through the San Jak.

"Apparently heavy cannon and ammunition already have arrived at the Gallipoli peninsula, for reinforcement of the Turkish artillery. In this connection interest attaches to the recent speech in the house of commons of A. Bonar-Law, British secretary for the colonies, who was preparing public opinion for evacuation of the Gallipoli peninsula in the near future. Field Marshal Kitchener is to decide to what part of the world the Dardanelles army shall be transferred. It probably will all be sent to Saloniki.

"No one expects Italy to give assistance to the Entente troops in Macedonia. Field Marshal Kitchener, himself made an effort in Rome to obtain a promise of troops, at least for Egypt in case England should be obliged to send reinforcement to India and southern Persia from her army in Egypt.

"The Italians' losses on the Austrian front have been apalling. If attempts conquer Gorizia once more fails, Italian opinion will not consent under any circumstances to the use of Italian troops outside of Italy in order to help England out of her embarrassments after her failures at the Dardanelles and in Serbia."

REDMOND AT THE FRONT

Irish Leader Has Been Making Speeches to the Troops.

London, Nov. 22.—John Redmond's trip to the front for the purpose of inspecting the Irish regiments is being followed with great interest. The tour of the Irish Nationalist leader opened dramatically according to the correspondents. Mr. Redmond was making an inspection of a battalion of the Royal Munster Fusileers which had taken a notable part in the fighting from the first days of the British entry to France. A German aeroplane appeared overhead just as Mr. Redmond arrived.

The British artillery opened on the aeroplane from all directions; some shell fragments fell unpleasantly near to Mr. R...ond and his party and the inspection was abruptly concluded.

The Irish leader has been making speeches to the troops, and they have been received with unbounde denthusiasm.

Berlin, via London, Nov. 21. —The Tageblatt's correspondent at Austrian press headquarters in Serbia wires that the number of Serbians taken prisoners has reached 80,000 and that more than 500 guns have been captured. Notwithstanding their heavy losses, he said, the Serbians are fighting bravely.

FRANCE MAKES PROFIT ON GERMAN PRISONERS

Hundreds of Thousands Are Working in Coal Mines

Press Representative Writes on Visit to Several of the Teuton Prison Encampments Located in Central France.

(Correspondence of Associated Press.)

Roanne, Central France, Nov. 10.— "Achtung," was the German command of attention given by a German sergeant-major in trim German uniform, to 1,500 German soldiers, all in their gray-green uniform with red-edged caps, ranged in long ranks twenty deep along the great courtyard of the barracks of Roanne. The sharp and gutteral German command sounded strangely in this French setting, with French officers received deferential salutes and giving directions, and French soldiers in their vivid red-blue uniforms standing at shoulderarms at all the exits.

These long lines of German soldiers were typical of the scores of German prison encampments centering at this little town of Roanne, and radiating from here to the Spanish frontier and over to the French colonies in Africa—in all some 200,000 German prisoners gathered up from Champagne and all along the line—manoeuvring under German officers in the prison courtyards, working the farms, runing the steam thrashing machines, binding hay in bundles for French artillery and cavalry horses, and helping supply France with its sustenance for the army and the people.

Here at Roanne, too, is the center of another form of German industry on French soil, with thousands of German-Polish soldiers doing the same work they did in the coal mines of Poland, digging the coal from the rich deposits of Central France, offsetting the loss of the French coal fields of Pas-de-Calais in the northeast which have passed into the hands of the invaders.

The Associated Press was given the opportunity to see the large number of these German encampments, and typical scenes of the soldiers doing agricultural and mining work, the party being arranged by the Ministry of Foreign affairs and under the escort of French army officers, Lieutenant Brunet and Lieut. Garcin.

In the courtyard of the Roanne barracks the Germans had been drawn up to give the visitors a typical instance of their appearance. They looked rather slouchy until the word of command was given; their uniforms were stained and dirty, showing the results of life in the trenches; they were irregular in height, big bearded Bavarians and short stocky men.

"Bring them to attention, and have them take three steps forward, turn, and three steps backward," said the French commandant.

The direction was interpreted to the German sergeantmajor, and then rang out his "Achtung." The effect was electrical on these soiled and slouchy ranks. They sprang into even lines, every head straight and shoulders back, transformed from an irregular mass into perfectly alligned platoons which would have done credit to a parade ground. Then, as the command of three steps was given in German, the long lines of heavy wooden sabits came up into the German goose-step, and fairly crashed back and forth over the stone pavement. In an instant the goose-step and the crashing sabots stopped and the lines were rigid. It was little short of sensational, this galvanizing of a whole regiment of mud-stained men into a body fairly vibrating with energy and force, and automatic military precision.

Six hundred of these men had recently been captured in the French advance in Champagne, but they were mingled indiscriminately with the others. One large dormitory, however, was given over chiefly to Champagne prisoners. This, like the rest of the rooms, were scrupulously clean and in good condition, with mattresses and blankets for each man, rooms for shower baths, and the equipment of a well-ordered barracks. The same place had been used before for French soldiers, and the Germans were getting practically the same accommodations. In the dining-hall, besides the regular menu printed in German, was a list of "extras" on the bulletin-board, which could be bought—butter, tea, cheese, soap, cigars, tobacco and other luxuries at the current French prices.

VENIZELOS PARTY LEADERS HOLD CONFERENCE IN ATHENS

Meet to Decide Upon Attitude of the Forthcoming Elections.

London, Nov. 21.—Leaders of the Greek party of Elutherios Venizelos, who twice resigned the premiership, on account of King Constantine's opposition to his policy of entering the war on the side of the Entente Allies, met in Athens today to decide upon the attitude in the forthcoming elections.

Reuter's Athens correspondents wires that the leaders decided to urge the party not to participate in the election, inasmuch as the men serving with the colors will not have opportunity to do so. Moreover, it is considered doubtful whether in the event of any victory at the polls for the Venizelos party, it would be able to put its policy into effect.

A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Athens says the followers of M. Venizelos are addressing a manifesto to the people in which partisans of M. Venizelos are asked to abstain from taking part in the elections.

FORTY THOUSAND SCHOOL CHILDREN SEE LIBERTY BELL

Over 100,000 People View National Relic at St. Louis.

St. Louis, November 21.—With a sunrise prayer, forty thousand school children paid homage to the Liberty Bell here today. Exclusive of the children, between 100,000 and 125,000 residents of St. Louis and surrounding towns passed before the bell during its seven and a half hour visit to this city. Parade of every military and civic organization in the city passed before the historic relic. After a thirty-minute stop in East St. Louis, Ill., the bell was taken on its journey eastward.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 21. — The Liberty Bell arrived here tonight and for three hours was paraded before a great crowd. More than two thousand school children were organized into choruses, singing at different points along the route.

WATERWAYS TO BE ARGUED AS MEANS OF NATIONAL DEFENSE

National Rivers and Harbors Congress, Washington, Dec. 8-10.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21. — Waterways as a means of national defense will be a keynote struck at the next convention of the National Rivers and Harbors congress, which meets in Washington, D. C., December 8-9-10. This topic will be treated by Congressman J. Hampton Moore, of Pennsylvania, who has studied the subject thoroughly and is well qualified to speak with authority. With preparedness the crucial issue before the country, this discussion is especially opportune. It is expected that Representative Moore will stress the value of improved inland waterways as an aid to the speedy mobilization of American forces, in the event of a threatened invasion.

The National Rivers and Harbors congress plans to hold a tremendous convention, as a strong protest against the bitter attacks made recently upon waterway appropriations. "The proper improvement of the nation's worthy water courses" will be the battle cry.

Among the prominent men who will address the organization will be Governor Edward F. Dunne, of Illinois, whose subject is "The Illinois Waterway." The west's interest in waterways will be championed by the new Senator from California, Hon. James B. Phelan. The Missouri river, which was so caustically criticized by ex-Senator Burton, will be the subject of an address by Senator "Jim" Reed, of Missouri, who will fire the opening broadside in its defense.

M'KELLAR'S PLURALITY IN TENNESSEE PRIMARY IS 2,700

Former Governor Patterson to Oppose Him in Second Primary.

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 21.—Virtually complete returns tonight indicated that Congressman Kenneth D. McKellar received a plurality of approximately 2,700 votes in yesterday's Democratic senatorial primary. Mr. McKellar will be opposed in a "run off" on December 15 unofficial returns today gave McKellar a total vote of 42,250, Patterson 39,482 and United States Senator Luke Lea, who was eliminated from the race, 32,035.

Senator Lea admitted defeat last night and pledged his support to the winner in the second primary, while R. L. Peck, campaign manager for Mr. Patterson, issued a statement charging irregularities and contending that the official count will show a substantial lead for the former governor.

At McKellar headquarters the only comment was a prediction that McKellar would win by an overwhelming majority in the second primary while Patterson managers were equally as optimistic that former Governor Patterson would be the nominee.

The returns will be canvassed by the county primary boards Wednesday and the Democratic state coramittee will meet here December 1 to tabulate the vote and formally announce the winner.

JOHN H. PATTERSON.

NOW THE TIME FOR MERCHANTS TO ADVERTISE, SAYS PATTERSON

National Cash Register Head, Forseeing Prosperity, Backs Up His Opinion With His Money; Is Spending $200,000 This Month for Publicity.

Dayton, O., Nov. 21.—In the convention of salesmen of the National Cash Register Company, gathered here from all parts of this continent, reports were made indicating the general improvement of business everywhere. Out of the eight hundred salesmen present, all but one said that his territory was moving fast toward a business boom.

On the basis of these reports, John H. Patterson, president and general manager of the Cash Register Company, predicted that the approaching era of prosperity would probably exceed anything this country has ever known.

As a preface to his remarks, he reviewed the business depression of the previous two years. This, he said, had affected all lines—agriculture, mining, industry, commerce and finance.

"Now," he continued, "the boom is on. Agricultural interests are the first to feel it. The farmers have record-breaking crops, with a big demand. Confidence has been re-established. Various industries have picked up, one after another. Then the stores needed goods, and factory wheels began to move. Then commerce and transportation reflected the change. Finally it was manifest in the financial world. We have plenty of money and the best banking system in the world today.

"We have three big federal organizations taking care of these various interests: First, the Interstate Commerce Commission; then came the Federal Trade Commission; and, finally, the Federal Reserve Board, with its chain of reserve banks. The value of these three boards or commissions to the country cannot be estimated.

"Through the aid of the reserve banks, the various banking institutions of the country began to loan money where people could not get it before. Now, with big crops and big demands, with little foreign competition, we are at the commencement of an era of prosperity such as this country has never seen before.

"All this great prosperity cannot come in a day. It will take time. But conditions everywhere are improving. The farmers are prosperous. The mills of Pittsburgh are busier than ever before. Railroad stocks are going up. It is only a question of a short time before the wave of prosperity will be upon us.

"Now is the time for storekeepers to advertise," added Mr. Patterson. He is backing up his opinion with his money. His company is spending more than $200,000 this month for advertising. In addition, it has spent $50,000 to have the 800 members of its selling force attend its school at Dayton for three days, where they were taught the new and up-to-date ideas for their business.
